U.S. Jury Indicts Hoffa In $1 Million Deal Probe

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was indicted by a federal court jury here Friday on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Law and collecting some $1 million illegally.

The two-count indictment, which involved payment through an auto transport firm incorporated in Nashville, was revealed in Washington by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. The attorney general, along with his brother President Kennedy, then a senator, participated in an investigation of the firm by the McClellan committee looking into improper labor practices.

Hoffa, who pleaded innocent earlier Friday to a charge of assault pressed by a union aide, declined to discuss the new indictment with newsmen. But a teamster official in Chicago said Hoffa "shed no tears" when informed of it.

Hoffa, who flew to Chicago for two scheduled talks after his Washington court appearance, sent Harold Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters, as a substitute at a scheduled Chicago press conference.

"If it (the indictment) is anything like other indictments against labor leaders in this country," Gibbons told newsmen, "the essence of it is anything but the truth."

If convicted, Hoffa could be sentenced to up to one year in prison and fined $10,000 on each of the two counts.

At Orlando, Fla., federal court has under advisement a petition by Hoffa's lawyers to dismiss a federal mail fraud indictment based on a land development deal involving alleged misuse of half a million dollars of teamster union funds.

Indicted with Hoffa at Nashville was Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit auto transport firm charged with setting up the Tennessee firm, Test Fleet Corp., and throwing lucrative Cadillac auto hauling business its way. At the time, Commercial Carriers had a labor contract with the Teamsters Union.

The indictment charges Hoffa and the late Owen Brennan, former Teamsters vice president, received $1,009,057 from Commercial Carriers through Test Fleet, the stock of which had been transferred by Commercial Carriers to Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan under their maiden names.

Dist. Judge William E. Miller set June 7 for Hoffa and representatives of Commercial Carriers to appear here for arraignment.

The assault case against Hoffa by Samuel Baron, 59-year-old field director of the Teamsters National Warehouse Division, was set for trial June 19. Hoffa's request for a jury trial was granted.

Baron, who exhibited a bruised and cut up face, said Hoffa attacked him in the union's plush Washington headquarters Thursday climaxing a feud of long standing.

$500,000 Fire Razes Weirton Plant's Annex

Walls, Roof Collapse On Machinery

Man Hospitalized, Several Firemen Made Ill By Smoke

Officials of the Kusic - Haines Manufacturing Co. in Weirton began counting up the damage today after a raging fire swept through an annex of the factory early Friday night.

Damage may run as high as $500,000, according to unofficial estimates.

About 150 firemen from Hancock County and neighboring cities along the Ohio River raced to the scene at 5:15, and brought the blaze under control in about 2 hours.

One fireman was hospitalized after collapsing at the scene, and several others were treated for exhaustion and smoke inhalation.

The huge plant, located in the Half - Moon Addition south of Weirton on Freedom Way, manufactures hostess and umbrella tables, air conditioners, dehumidifiers, radio speakers and electrical components for television and appliances.

It is one of the largest industrial firms in the addition, which is located along the Ohio River near Weirton.

The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out in the paint shop in the eastern addition of the brick concrete structure.

There were 18 employes working at the time and the fire was spotted when spray hoses in the paint shop burst into flame. The fire spread rapidly up a wall of the 250-foot-long building.

The entire roof and sides caved in, causing heavy damage to manufacturing equipment not already ruined by the fire. Drums of paint thinner exploded.

Smoke from the paint - fed fire billowed hundreds of feet into the air. Cars were backed up for several miles along Route 7 on the Ohio side as motorists halted to watch, their attention caught by the huge clouds of black smoke.

Firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the eastern portion of the building. The remainder of the plant containing offices and a main production line with machinery was damaged only by smoke and water.

U.S. General Looking Over Laos Situation

Marines Join Thai Units In Maneuver Near Tense Border

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Monsoon-drenched U.S. Marines prepared today to join Thai army units in military maneuvers near Thailand's tense border with Communist-menaced Laos.

Torrential rains lashed the rice paddies where the bulk of the 1,800-man Marine battle group in northeast Thailand is camped only 30 miles from the Mekong River border with Laos. The Marines plodded through deep mud this morning to clean up their impressive array of shooting iron.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, over-all commander of the U.S. force in Thailand, flew to northeast Laos today to inspect the situation, which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned might explode into a shooting match like the Korean War.

Harkins, also head of the U.S. Military Assistance Command in South Viet Nam, declared that the American forces in Thailand are under hold-fire orders. But he warned that danger still lurks from pro-Communist forces in Laos whose recent offensive brought American troops rushing to Thailand to discourage any further Communist advances.

Lt. Gen. James L. Richardson and U.S. Ambassador Kenneth T. Young accompanied Harkins on the flight to Udon, 350 miles northeast of Bangkok. They arranged to drive to the town of Nong Han, where the Marines are camped.

Communist radio broadcasts claimed royal Laotian troops attacked and drove back pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels from an area near the royal capital of Luang Prabang earlier this week.

But reports from Laos indicated a lull in military activity as attention focused on diplomatic maneuvers that the United States hopes will bring about a neutral Laos and end the need for U.S. troops in Thailand.

Area's Parks Prepare For New Season

If there are any moth holes in your Bikini, you better have 'em mended soon — Tri-State District pools and parks are getting ready for another summer season, with all to be open by May 30.

Thompson Park, Tomlinson Run State Park, Raccoon Creek State Park, Rock Springs Park will soon be drawing picnickers and municipal pools are being cleaned and painted in time for the traditional start of the season on Memorial Day.

The Board of Thompson Park commissioners met Friday night to discuss the park opening, including the municipal swimming pool, and employment of summer help.

Final arrangements will be completed by William Bell, park superintendent.

Tomlinson Run State Park in Hancock County is preparing for big crowds expected on Memorial Day when the park's outdoor swimming pool will open for the season.

N. T. Holbrook, superintendent, said the pool may be opened May 26 or May 27 if the weather is warm enough.

Holbrook estimated there were 4,000 to 5,000 visitors to the 1,390-acre recreation area along State Route 2 in Pughtown Sunday afternoon — the largest crowd in May in nine years.

Boating and fishing facilities opened April 28 and many fishermen have tried the park's 28-acre lake, which was stocked with 1,000 pounds of trout. Picnickers have been numerous also, he added.

Two new hiking trails, Big Foot, and White Oak, which wind through picturesque woods and streams, will be open for visitors this year.

Swimming at Raccoon Creek State Park will begin May 30 and hours will be 10 a. m. to 8 p.m., the office of George Armstrong, superintendent, said.

Lifeguard personnel is being obtained.

Presently, construction still is going on to make a parking lot closer to the swimming area and the building of a two-way road

Success Due For Centaur, Expert Says

Von Braun Claims Cause Of Rocket's Failure Corrected

WASHINGTON (AP)—On May 8 at 2:49 p.m. a shining rocket trembled on its launching pad at Cape Canaveral and lifted into the air.

Its bottom half was an Atlas booster, but the top was something new in American rocketry—a second stage using liquid hydrogen as a fuel. It is called the Centaur.

Behind that launching lay nearly four years of intense research and engineering, many heartbreaking delays and many unforeseen technical roadblocks growing out of its exotic fuel, the most powerful chemical combination possible.

Centaur was 16 months behind its original timetable when it roared off the pad that afternoon. Cameras were trained on the gleaming tube as it struggled aloft. All seemed well at first.

But after 50 seconds a cloud of hydrogen vapor surrounded the upper stage, pieces of the siding began coming off and a dark spot spread across the Centaur's fuel tank.

At 56 seconds after launch it blew up.

Then the postmortems began. Why did Centaur flunk its first fligt test? Why was it so far behind schedule? What caused the delays along the line? If mistakes were made, have they been corrected?

A House space subcommittee asked these questions this week and got some of the answers.

From Grant L. Hansen, program director for General Dynamics Astronautics, which built the rocket, came the best guess as to the cause of the explosion:

"The design of the weather shield between the nose faring and the Centaur itself . . . was to blame."

This design was based on "assumptions of aerodynamic loads which turned out to be false."

He conceded, on hindsight, that

First Rain In Week May End Heat Wave

The week-long heat wave appeared to be at an end as a light rain fell shortly before noon with thundershowers forecast for the entire weekend.

Cloudy skies cut down on the heat after a forecast that the temperature might soar to a record high of 94 for the sizzling period that began Monday. The high range forecast was a hot and humid 87 to 94 degrees.

Tonight's low will be 62 to 67. Scattered thundershowers were forecast for this afternoon, tonight and Sunday and tomorrow will be less warm. The downtown had a reading of 61 degrees this morning, about the same overnight mark since Monday.

3 Injured In Crash

Five persons were reported injured in a three-car crash at Taylor's Bend on Route 30 a mile east of Chester shortly before noon. City Hospital said Theodore Shaffer of Mt. The plant employes about 150 men and women from the Steubenville-Weirton area.

Cohen and Sam Kusic, owner of the building, and Weirton Fire Chief Curtis Lemley declined to make an official estimate of the damage.

But Michael Haines, former general manager who retains a 35 per cent interest in the company, estimated the loss to the building at $250,000, and another $250,00 to facilities and equipment.

Cohen and Seaman J. Rose of Pittsburgh and Max Gersh of Baltimore acquired a 65 per cent interest in the plant last September when Samuel Kusic retired.

The general alarm was answered by six Weirton firemen, plus volunteers, and others from the area.

Firemen from Newell and New Cumberland raced to the scene after hearing radio reports.

Chief Arch Coen and several firemen from Newell were en route to a training school of the Hancock County Fire-Fighters Association in New Cumberland when they heard reports of the blaze. Firemen sped to Weirton for standby duty.

Weirton firemen still were standing by at the plant today. Residents of the city were requested to refrain from using water while the fire was burning, in order that pressure in the water lines to the hydrants could be maintained.

Calvin Beck, 28, of Weirton, was admitted to Weirton General Hospital after fainting at the scene.

U.S. Will Try To Get Rail Talks On Track

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The government will try Wednesday to get bargaining talks between the nation's railroads and five operating unions back on the track.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg Friday asked representatives of both to meet with him "to review the matter."

These included recommendations to eliminate firemen on freight locomotives and to give the carriers more leeway in trimming manpower to requirements.

The unions represent 200,000 men operating the trains, including engineers, firemen, trainmen, switchmen and conductors.

Armed Forces Day

Army Presents Award

Presentation of a citizen's award to Postmaster Samuel W. Brown of the local Army recruiter today marked East Liverpool's observance of Armed Forces Day.

Sfc. Edward Vallor presents a framed certificate of appreciation given by the 2nd Army Recruiting District in recognition of "fine spirit and public service in building and maintaining the Regular Army."

Though a citizen's award, the certificate given Postmaster Brown goes to one who certainly is no stranger to Uncle Sam's Army.

Brown is a lieutenant colonel in the Adjutant General's Corps of the Army Reserves and will complete 20 years service in October.

He entered the Army as a private and received a commission after graduating from Officers' Candidate School at Ft. Washington, Md. He has since attended many training schools.

Col. Brown served nine years of active duty in the Army, from 1941 to 1947 at Arlington, Va., with the Army Security Agency, and was recalled to active duty in 1948 to 1951 during the Korean War.

He regularly attends summer camp at Ft. Harrison in Indianapolis plus regular meetings of the 83rd Division Army Reserves, each Monday night in Youngstown.

Lions Club Speaker Points To Citizens' Responsibilities

"The responsibility is yours and frankly you're not accepting it," Wilson Smith, East Liverpool missionary, told the Lions Club Friday in urging a "return to God to combat communism and restore racial freedom in this country."

"Our forefathers' belief in God and the teachings of the Bible are what kept America from being communist," Smith declared.

"I can only be as effective as you people permit me to be," he continued, explaining much of his time is spent in defending America and showing the good things about American living.

But the chief trouble is that the communists show the "gutter of America", the missionary said in citing instances of racial prejudice.

They print only the truth, he said, but play up instances such as a Spanish friend being barred from a hotel because he was believed to be a Mexican or a New York hotel sign declaring Jews and dogs are not allowed.

"What would we do if our President were kicked out of a restaurant in England, France or some other country? We would be mad! But that's what heppened to King of Morocco in a restaurant in this country where he was barred because he's a Negro.

"When you can't preach this Bible, then we are the same as Russia," Smith said relating an incident in which he said communists stopped an evangelistic meeting in a Kansas farm community.

Smith, who will return to Madrid Tuesday, was introduced by Clarence Wright, program chairman.

George McCullough, district governor, and Richard Walker, district public relations chairman, reported on the state convention last weekend in Columbus. McCullough was elected chaplain of the state governors' council.

Charles Herman, president, reminded members wives will be guests at Friday's luncheon.

Runaway Engine Rolls 2½ Miles; None Hurt

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—An unmanned Pennsylvania Railroad switch engine rolled 2½ miles from the yard, ran into a gasoline crane and several cars loaded with ties and pushed them several blocks before it derailed Friday. Several employes tried to jump aboard the runaway engine, but its estimated 25-mile-an-hour speed was too fast.

There were no injuries.

He said the work will begin at 5 a.m. Commerce St. will be covered first.

It will be barricaded between 9th and 15th Sts. and residents are asked not to enter from any of the side streets, he said. This will be the first time in quite a while the street has been centerlined and special attention will be given it, he said.

Also to be lined will be Route 45 and Route 39 within the city limits and all of Route 7 through the city along with Cemetery Hill.

A lining machine has been obtained from the State Highway Department. The city must purchase the paint and pay the operator, Baldasare said.

a noise on the stairs outside his third-floor bedroom.

Standing near the doorway, he saw a flashlight beam. "Who is it?" he asked, and a voice replied "Constantino."

The priest saw the outline of a small man and ordered him to stand still "or I'll shoot."

"I'll shoot too, father," the answer came back.

Father Born fired, and a shot rang back.

After the exchange of gunfire the burglar ran downstairs and out of the building.

Several office desks and a small safe had been ransacked, but the amount of money taken was believed small.

City Trash Removal Ends With 141st Load

The last truckload of rubbish was hauled this morning by city incinerator crews to wind up the annual two-week spring cleanup, Supt. James McKinnon said today.

A total of 141 truckloads were hauled during the drive in which McKinnon praised the co-operation the department received from householders.

"In the 15 years I have supervised the cleanup, this has been one of the best we have had," McKinnon declared.

Only three complaints were received, he said, because the department didn't pick up overstuffed furniture and building materials, the superintendent said, explaining it was unable to haul the bulky items in the "packer trucks."

The homes of five Civil War generals are preserved in Ohio: W. T. Sherman House, Lancaster; Rutherford B. Hayes, Fremont; McCook House, Carrollton; U. S. Grant Birthplace, Pt. Pleasant, and the Durbin Ward home, Glendower, Lebanon.

Chute System Changes Eyed By Carpenter

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., (AP) —Engineers worked busily today to change the parachute system to return astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter safely from orbit.

And Carpenter—the man most concerned—can be expected to keep a sharp eye on the sudden engineering change which delayed his space ride until at least next Tuesday.

Whether it will zoom off on Tuesday depends partly on completion and checkout of the change in automatic controls designed to assure safe parachute landing when Carpenter's space craft slices back to earth.

The parachute system had worked perfectly on five returns of capsules until John H. Glenn Jr.'s trip on Feb. 20. Glenn's small or drogue stabilizing 'chute popped out sooner than planned, at 27,000 feet rather than 21,000 feet. His real life saver, the 63-foot main parachute, did come out automatically as planned at about 10,000 feet.

But engineers and officials worried whether the same mishap could happen with the main parachute, said William B. Bland, an engineer of Project Mercury.

The engineering change decided upon after tests Thursday, calls for some rewiring and addition of another barostat, a device to measure atmospheric pressure.

They were the apparent low offers received when bids were opened May 10 by the board.

More than half of all telephone calls are made on impulse.

The Houston Post quoted James L. Hennessey, executive assistant to the commissioner of immigration and naturalization, as saying in Washington that the order went to every port in the nation for relay to transportation firms.

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has been invited to "come down if he has any pertinent information to offer" at the grand jury probe in Franklin, Dist. Atty. Russ said. Freeman has had no comment.

The death was that of Henry Marshall, shot June 3, 1961, on his farm near Franklin. Local authorities said he died perhaps five hours after he fired five bullets into his abdomen from a .22 caliber, bolt-action rifle.

Marshall was chief of production adjustment for the State Agricultural Stabilization and conservation office.

Freeman said May 7 that much of the Estes case remains cloudy because many of the facts died with Marshall.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said he expects the Estes scandal to be "a real shaker" before it's over. He said he expects the affair to involve several more government officials. "You can't do the conniving Estes has done without help from people in very high places," Goldwater said.

Armed Forces Day

Army Presents Award

Presentation of a citizen's award to Postmaster Samuel W. Brown of the local Army recruiter today marked East Liverpool's observance of Armed Forces Day.

Sfc. Edward Vallor presents a framed certificate of appreciation given by the 2nd Army Recruiting District in recognition of "fine spirit and public service in building and maintaining the Regular Army."

Though a citizen's award, the certificate given Postmaster Brown goes to one who certainly is no stranger to Uncle Sam's Army.

Brown is a lieutenant colonel in the Adjutant General's Corps of the Army Reserves and will complete 20 years service in October.

He entered the Army as a private and received a commission after graduating from Officers' Candidate School at Ft. Washington, Md. He has since attended many training schools.

Col. Brown served nine years of active duty in the Army, from 1941 to 1947 at Arlington, Va., with the Army Security Agency, and was recalled to active duty in 1948 to 1951 during the Korean War.

He regularly attends summer camp at Ft. Harrison in Indianapolis plus regular meetings of the 83rd Division Army Reserves, each Monday night in Youngstown.

Lions Club Speaker Points To Citizens' Responsibilities

"The responsibility is yours and frankly you're not accepting it," Wilson Smith, East Liverpool missionary, told the Lions Club Friday in urging a "return to God to combat communism and restore racial freedom in this country."

"Our forefathers' belief in God and the teachings of the Bible are what kept America from being communist," Smith declared.

"I can only be as effective as you people permit me to be," he continued, explaining much of his time is spent in defending America and showing the good things about American living.

But the chief trouble is that the communists show the "gutter of America", the missionary said in citing instances of racial prejudice.

They print only the truth, he said, but play up instances such as a Spanish friend being barred from a hotel because he was believed to be a Mexican or a New York hotel sign declaring Jews and dogs are not allowed.

"What would we do if our President were kicked out of a restaurant in England, France or some other country? We would be mad! But that's what heppened to King of Morocco in a restaurant in this country where he was barred because he's a Negro.

"When you can't preach this Bible, then we are the same as Russia," Smith said relating an incident in which he said communists stopped an evangelistic meeting in a Kansas farm community.

Smith, who will return to Madrid Tuesday, was introduced by Clarence Wright, program chairman.

George McCullough, district governor, and Richard Walker, district public relations chairman, reported on the state convention last weekend in Columbus. McCullough was elected chaplain of the state governors' council.

Charles Herman, president, reminded members wives will be guests at Friday's luncheon.

Several employes tried to jump aboard the runaway engine, but its estimated 25-mile-an-hour speed was too fast.

There were no injuries.

If Europe Became United

Surely the most remarkable thing France's President De Gaulle revealed in his controversial statement about a strong, united Europe was that he knew it couldn't happen for a long time.

When it was seized on as a statement of policy for the immediate future and turned into an issue, De Gaulle could think of it as a trial balloon, which it turned out to be, or as the opening gun in a campaign that couldn't be started too soon because it would take a long time.

"I have already said, and I repeat," declared President de Gaulle, "that at the present time there is not and cannot be any other possible Europe than a Europe of states, apart of course from myths and fictions."

As for the remarks about reconstituting European strength based on the growing strength of France and Germany and about ultimate self-reliance free from dependence on the United States, was not President de Gaulle voicing what has been the dream and ambition of all framers of U.S. foreign policy since World War II?

THE FRENCH president did not say there could be no international programs for keeping peace and winning a war if peace were broken. He merely said Europe should be as strong someday as its great potentialities could make it—that after economic cooperation had added to its strength political cooperation should be attemped.

What caused the furor that followed his remarks? Particularly what caused the violent reaction in the United States?

President de Gaulle's bristling personality was responsible for most of the reaction. He makes a specialty of saying the wrong thing at the wrong time. As James Reston sized it up in The New York Times: "Those in Washington who think the U.S. is overextended, spending too much and committing itself too much to defend areas far from home—these are rather pleased at the thought of a Europe that could defend itself and 'let the boys come home.' Nobody has used that phrase around Washington for years. It even sounds a little silly now—especially since it is the main objective of Soviet policy—but this is the irony of the De Gaulle statement. It depressed his friends and revived his enemies."

AND WHAT ELSE was responsible for the reaction? What caused President Kennedy, for instance, to react so violently insisting on the right of the United States to stay in Europe indefinitely?

The answer does not make for happy thoughts.

Americans have talked for years about a United States of Europe and urged Europeans to get together. The European Economic Community is a forthright step in that direction. Economic cooperation is to be followed in due course by political cooperation—exactly as President de Gaulle says it should be when the time is right.

Now that the thing Americans have theorized about so long is moving toward reality the prospect is terrifying. Europe, potentially stronger than either the United States or the Soviet Union, might become a dominant third force, aligned neither with the United States nor Russia.

It would be a momentous turn in balance-of-power politics. The United States is scared stiff.

Starting A Busy Weekend

This will be a busy weekend for President Kennedy. Details of his schedule might make a citizen wonder if, like presidents of colleges and universities, presidents of the United States have turned into fund-raisers.

On this weekend the presidential money goal is to raise a million dollars. For the privilege of being counted among the contributors and also of breaking bread with Mr. Kennedy in New York City some 400 enthusiastic Democrats will pay $1,000 apiece. Later in Madison Square Garden as many Democrats as can be rounded up will pay from $10 to $100 to help the President celebrate his birthday, which won't occur until May 28.

On Sunday, President Kennedy will perform in Madison Square Garden again — this time for a rally to whoop up his administration's medical care bill. This also is in the nature of a money-raiser, first because the tickets will sell for $1 apiece, second because passage of the bill would fatten the federal purse by hundreds of millions of dollars taken from the incomes of workers and slushed into the general fund like all Social Security taxes. The obligation to pay for medical care for the aged would be added to the obligation to pay for everything else that has been promised under Social Security — the world's largest collection of IOU's.

The duties of the presidency are ever-changing. It is what could be called an evolving office, changing from year to year. Abraham Lincoln was not the kind of president George Washington had been; Woodrow Wilson had little in common with Lincoln and John Kennedy has little in common with any of his predecessors.

He has a championship rival in the money-raising department — Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose closed-circuit television appearance in January 1956 raised $4 million. Mr. Kennedy's best previous total was in September 1960 when he raised $900,000 at a dinner in Harrisburg, Pa. Like college presidents, our presidents in the future may be rated as much by the money they raised as by what they did in the official aspect of their jobs.

The Public And The Party

County residents have been following with considerable interest the job controversy at the Courthouse at Lisbon in which the two Republican commissioners have twice discharged Democrat workers.

Four Democrats were dismissed 15 months ago in the customary post-election turnover at Lisbon, but two subsequent court rulings have established that these employes achieved a type of Civil Service classification protection.

This week two of the three workers returned to their posts by the courts again have been discharged because, the GOP commissioners claim, they engaged in political activity not permitted Civil Service employes.

While this remains a political patronage tussle long familiar in America's democratic government processes and originally provided a legal point which needed court clarification, it also poses a possible expense to county taxpayers who may face underwriting salaries for two people in one job.

In the unrelenting battle between two parties, which paves the way to sound government for the most part, officials must judge when the conflict serves the party more than the public and strike a truce.

Those concerned with Columbiana County operations and expenses hope that the issue at Lisbon will be resolved shortly and that the future does not hold a series of bienniel hopscotch games in the Courthouse offices.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A dog's behavior when a loved one has gone is registered in heart-breaking ways. At first it is perplexed for a few days, thinking there will be the same happy return from a brief journey. It had always been that way.

Then the dog loses spirit, seems quite puzzled and looks at you with eyes that seem to ask, "She is always home before this. Where is she?"

In another day or two it begins to realize something is very wrong. It stares at the sofa where it so often sat cuddled beside the lady; it seems searching for the lost presence and warm touch. It is not much comforted by the master, whose affections probably seemed always to run second.

It lies in front of her favorite chair but with ears upright and eyes half opened, listening for a footstep it will not hear again at the door or along the gravel path up the driveway.

Now and then the faithful pooch leaps up with a bound, rushes to a door and does the happy little dance it always did as it waited for her voice.

Its disappointment is pathetic. It seems reluctant to believe there is no one there, and lingers as if still seeing its departed mistress. For a fleeting moment perhaps it does.

Returning to the living room it relaxes again, but with the ears still perked, ever listening, ever hoping, ever expecting.

At times it raises its head as if it caught a familiar voice, smile or footfall afar off.

You hear nothing but the dog stands tense, its head to one side, its body like a coiled spring as if it clearly detected the vanished figure of the radiant lady, who rarely came in without a toy or other plaything for it.

You toss some old toys to it, but it is in no mood for play now. Occasionally it dashes abruptly and wildly upstairs, with that curious almost human cry of elation at the end of a vigil.

There will be long days of obvious grief and desolation, for a dog's love is abiding. It knows nothing about death.

The great lady is near, the dog is sure, and will come back in time. n the meantime it will watch, search and listen to sounds a human being can't hear. They are perhaps very, very real.

Steel Sees 'Era Of Good Will'

By Victor Riesel

That industrial civil war which will be known as the "SOB Saga" has just had its first anniversary. The battle of steel on the Potomac began a month ago. But the best part of the story has not been told. It has been obscured by the President's dramatic 72-hour counter-attack against U.S. Steel and later the reconciliation talk with the leader of Big Steel.

Victor Riesel

The big story is that there may never again be industrial war — strikes — on the steel front.

The story is that even during the stormiest, cussing-est hours in the White House a month ago, a new era of good will was being negotiated by Big Steel and the big steel union in the Penn-Sheraton Hotel.

Sounds corny? Yes. But by any other name this new era will smell as sweet to the men who direct the behemoth mills and the tens of thousands who earn their daily bread in the surrounding steel belts.

Begin this side of the saga over at Forbes Field on Tuesday, April 10. It is opening day for the Pittsburgh Pirates. All of this city's baseball buffs are there — which of course includes steel union leader, David McDonald and U. S. Steel's labor relations vice president, Conrad Cooper.

LONG BEFORE the seventh inning, Mr. Cooper, looking mighty serious for a fan whose ball club was trouncing the Phillies, sought out "Dave." The corporation executive said he'd like to see the union leader later that day. Mighty important.

That evening, McDonald looked for Cooper at the Penn-Sheraton. Failing to find Cooper, McDonald went home. Cooper, chagrined at being detained, soon telephoned McDonald. Mighty important. McDonald hurried back to the hotel where they had been negotiating for weeks.

Cooper then explained the price increase and what had happened at the White House. Cooper had been eager to inform Dave before the union chief could see it in the papers or hear it on the air.

It had been mighty important to Cooper — the man who had held out against union demands during the 116-day strike back in '59 — that the union officials did not feel they had been taken in.

This was not a sign of weakness on Cooper's part.

As head of the four-man team which was bargaining for 11 major steel companies, Cooper had helped create the warmest feeling of good will in the last 10 years. He made it clear that McDonald had been told of the price increase as soon as President Kennedy had been informed.

LATER, McDonald said privately: "I want to say flatly, and without qualification, that the negotiations which we have just concluded with the basic steel companies were the healthiest and most fruitful in years . . . a new era . . ."

Why? Because this contract worked out by McDonald and his counsel David Feller, successor to Arthur Goldberg, ironed out gripes which have disturbed the industry-labor relations for 25 years. This has just not been reported.

There was the seniority problem. It had been breaking the hearts of older workers for years.

There are hundreds of little divisions in the big mills. Some have scores of workers. Some literally two or three men. The workers develop seniority in each division or department.

Thus a man could be on the job 25 years and be laid off if his section closed down. But at the same time another division needed men and hired youngsters. So the older workers were jobless and the kids earned the money. Now this will be corrected.

ANOTHER DISPUTE was over the type and amount of work supervisors and foremen could perform themselves. This was increasing, said the union, and it took work from the union's hourly-paid members.

There were union complaints over bogging down of grievance procedures. Important, too, was the union demand that steel workers be used for new construction work and repairs instead of the companies "contracting out" to construction firms.

For the first time, special union and company human relations teams went from plant to plant, talked to the men and saw what was happening right there in the mills.

And for the first time the industry agreed to reopen a contract so such changes could be made. The Human Relations Committee now is studying these problems.

Though the contract signed last month is for two years, it will be opened again in mid-'63 so the industry and the union can solve these specific problems half way.

Peace, it's wonderful. It survived despite the 72-hours' war on the New York-Washington front a month ago. And a new era of good will has been launched.

Thailand And Cuba

By David Lawrence

What About Only 90 Miles Away?

It's a little hard to understand why the United States is sending 5,000 troops into Thailand — nearly 8,000 miles away — to help keep the Communists from extending into that country the hold they already have next door in Laos, while nothing is being done about rescuing Cuba, only 90 miles away from our shores.

David Lawrence

President Kennedy says the American troops were sent into Thailand "to put us in a position to fulfill our obligations" under the treaty of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, often referred to as SEATO, and that other member countries will send troops, too. But if a regional association like this can take action so far away from the United States, it may be asked: Why isn't the Organization of American States being persuaded to send troops into Cuba to rid the island of the Communist dynasty that rules there?

Surely, eliminating the menace of communism in Cuba would seem to be all-important to the security of the United States and of the nations to the south of us. agreed that Fidel Castro really doesn't control Cuba but that alongside of him are a set of aides and advisers trained in Moscow who continually carry on hostile activities toward other Latin-American countries.

In the last meeting of the Organization of American States, the a hard time getting acquiescence to a plan for economic sanctions against the Communist regime in Cuba.

Little has been heard since as to what the Washington government is doing to mobilize Latin-American governments behind a plan to drive the Communists out of Cuba.

This country has a very extensive aid program, known as the Alliance for Progress, which is to cost the taxpayers of the United States many billions of dollars in the next few years.

It doesn't seem sensible to be giving money to any Latin-American government which is so short-sighted as to fail to see the danger involved in letting the Communists operate from Cuba as a base.

Unquestionably the Kennedy administration can, if it likes, put pressure on the Latin-American governments to get some kind of sanction from the Organization of American States for military steps in Cuba.

As a matter of fact, the United States need not wait for the consent of the other states any more than it did in Thailand. The Southeast Asia Treaty, for instance, unlike the NATO pact, provides that, when there is danger of aggression in the area, each member shall be covered by its own "constitutional procesess."

This is but another way of saying that each country shall make its own decision.

THE UNITED STATES is in a similar position as a member of the Organization of American States. It may ask for the cooperation of the other members, but it can make its own decision to protect any Latin-American country that has been invaded by a foreign power or where there has been evidence of subversive activities which threaten the political independence of the people.

There is abundant evidence in connection with the Communist operations in Latin America that the Moscow government has infiltrated many parts of the hemisphere and exercises direct control of the government and the national economy by Cuba.

Hence, the right under an existing international agreement to take action in Cuba is clear.

It will be contended, of course, that American troops have been landed in Thailand with the permission of the government of that country and that the purpose is to defend it alone, but everyone realizes that across the Laotian border is the real source of the trouble and that there are in Laos American military units which theoretically are only advisory to the anti-Communist forces but which have orders to shoot if attacked.

SO THERE NO LONGER is any doubt but that the United States is using military force to check Communist-inspired operations in Southeast Asia and that other members of SEATO have formally recognized America's action and may send their own troops as well.

The other members of SEATO, besides Thailand and the United States, are Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines and Great Britain

Some of these countries won't send any troops.

Likewise, if there is any entry into Cuba by military forces of the United States under the sanctions derived from the treaty of the Organization of American States, it would not mean that all member countries would necessarily participate.

The SEATO precedent, however, gives support now to a similar movement of American troops into Cuba or surrounding areas. The purpose would be to cut off all operations by Communist-led forces based in Cuba and aim at any other country of this hemisphere.

Sending American troops to Thailand certainly opens up the question of why the same kind of action in respect to Cuba isn't also justified.

Letters To The Editor

The welfare of the people of Columbiana County is dependent upon the wisdom of our representatives in office, and we realize that it's a long row to hoe.

It seems as though the buying power of the once almighty dollar has been reduced to zero. We, as taxpaying citizens, encounter the same problems in maintaining our homes, even though on a smaller scale.

I find that it's necessary for us to plan together the program which we are to follow, articles to be purchased and luxuries to be eliminated, so that we may survive and pay taxes. By "together" I mean every member of the household. We are compelled by necessity to work together. We have to stretch the dollar with the previously mentioned wisdom to make ends meet. We all earn our keep else we fail.

The economic soundness of the home means the economic soundness of Columbiana County, the state and the nation. We work together, or fail.

What I am driving at is just this: Our county commissioners are not working together whenever they stoop to the low level of trying to fire a fellow employe, or employes, and spend the poor taxpayer's money foolishly in court costs. This is absolutely nothing but wanton waste. They are doing nothing but exposing the citizens to a lower level of economic insecurity whenever they spend a dollar foolishly.

Now they are recognizing the verdict of the court as being final and still do not abide by the decision. We will fire them for "Political Activity", nothing more, nothing less. Where did those employes violate the laws of the Civil Service Commission? Was it when they fought for their jobs? Are the commissioners trying now to be an absolute dictator and deny any working American the right to an honest living Are we being denied the process of legal court action in keeping our rights: Political activity. The only political activity the working, and paying, man can see is the commissioners' own action in the matter. They are wasting our money and their time. We elected them to office to represent all the people wisely, not to persecute a few. Providing the employes are inefficient and failing to do their work properly, then I say, fire them. This is what the people of Columbiana County will do to the commissioners whenever they realize their inefficiency and improper work.

In regards to the County Home, have the commissioners ever given any consideration to the idea of asking for a completely new, modern, fireproof structure, one floor plan for safety reasons and convenience, instead of always submitting the world "Repair" to the ancient home we now possess.

Personally, I will continue to vote against the word "Repair" but I will vote for an up-to-date home for our elderly citizens.

The commissioner should forget politics and work for the good of all the people. The voters know that mistakes will be made, all we ask is that they work together, efficiently, properly and wisely.

I wish all of the commissioners good luck, success and prosperity by striving together in unity, hand in hand in friendship.

If Europe Became United

Surely the most remarkable thing France's President De Gaulle revealed in his controversial statement about a strong, united Europe was that he knew it couldn't happen for a long time.

When it was seized on as a statement of policy for the immediate future and turned into an issue, De Gaulle could think of it as a trial balloon, which it turned out to be, or as the opening gun in a campaign that couldn't be started too soon because it would take a long time.

"I have already said, and I repeat," declared President de Gaulle, "that at the present time there is not and cannot be any other possible Europe than a Europe of states, apart of course from myths and fictions."

As for the remarks about reconstituting European strength based on the growing strength of France and Germany and about ultimate self-reliance free from dependence on the United States, was not President de Gaulle voicing what has been the dream and ambition of all framers of U.S. foreign policy since World War II?

THE FRENCH president did not say there could be no international programs for keeping peace and winning a war if peace were broken. He merely said Europe should be as strong someday as its great potentialities could make it—that after economic cooperation had added to its strength political cooperation should be attemped.

What caused the furor that followed his remarks? Particularly what caused the violent reaction in the United States?

President de Gaulle's bristling personality was responsible for most of the reaction. He makes a specialty of saying the wrong thing at the wrong time. As James Reston sized it up in The New York Times: "Those in Washington who think the U.S. is overextended, spending too much and committing itself too much to defend areas far from home—these are rather pleased at the thought of a Europe that could defend itself and 'let the boys come home.' Nobody has used that phrase around Washington for years. It even sounds a little silly now—especially since it is the main objective of Soviet policy—but this is the irony of the De Gaulle statement. It depressed his friends and revived his enemies."

AND WHAT ELSE was responsible for the reaction? What caused President Kennedy, for instance, to react so violently insisting on the right of the United States to stay in Europe indefinitely?

The answer does not make for happy thoughts.

Americans have talked for years about a United States of Europe and urged Europeans to get together. The European Economic Community is a forthright step in that direction. Economic cooperation is to be followed in due course by political cooperation—exactly as President de Gaulle says it should be when the time is right.

And for the first time the industry agreed to reopen a contract so such changes could be made. The Human Relations Committee now is studying these problems.

Though the contract signed last month is for two years, it will be opened again in mid-'63 so the industry and the union can solve these specific problems half way.

Peace, it's wonderful. It survived despite the 72-hours' war on the New York-Washington front a month ago. And a new era of good will has been launched.

Thailand And Cuba

By David Lawrence

What About Only 90 Miles Away?

It's a little hard to understand why the United States is sending 5,000 troops into Thailand — nearly 8,000 miles away — to help keep the Communists from extending into that country the hold they already have next door in Laos, while nothing is being done about rescuing Cuba, only 90 miles away from our shores.

David Lawrence

President Kennedy says the American troops were sent into Thailand "to put us in a position to fulfill our obligations" under the treaty of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, often referred to as SEATO, and that other member countries will send troops, too. But if a regional association like this can take action so far away from the United States, it may be asked: Why isn't the Organization of American States being persuaded to send troops into Cuba to rid the island of the Communist dynasty that rules there?

Surely, eliminating the menace of communism in Cuba would seem to be all-important to the security of the United States and of the nations to the south of us, agreed that Fidel Castro really doesn't control Cuba but that alongside of him are a set of aides and advisers trained in Moscow who continually carry on hostile activities toward other Latin-American countries.

In the last meeting of the Organization of American States, the a hard time getting acquiescence to a plan for economic sanctions against the Communist regime in Cuba.

Little has been heard since as to what the Washington government is doing to mobilize Latin-American governments behind a plan to drive the Communists out of Cuba.

This country has a very extensive aid program, known as the Alliance for Progress, which is to cost the taxpayers of the United States many billions of dollars in the next few years.

It doesn't seem sensible to be giving money to any Latin-American government which is so short-sighted as to fail to see the danger involved in letting the Communists operate from Cuba as a base.

Unquestionably the Kennedy administration can, if it likes, put pressure on the Latin-American governments to get some kind of sanction from the Organization of American States for military steps in Cuba.

As a matter of fact, the United States need not wait for the consent of the other states any more than it did in Thailand. The Southeast Asia Treaty, for instance, unlike the NATO pact, provides that, when there is danger of aggression in the area, each member shall be covered by its own "constitutional procesess."

This is but another way of saying that each country shall make its own decision.

THE UNITED STATES is in a similar position as a member of the Organization of American States. It may ask for the cooperation of the other members, but it can make its own decision to protect any Latin-American country that has been invaded by a foreign power or where there has been evidence of subversive activities which threaten the political independence of the people.

There is abundant evidence in connection with the Communist operations in Latin America that the Moscow government has infiltrated many parts of the hemisphere and exercises direct control of the government and the national economy by Cuba.

Hence, the right under an existing international agreement to take action in Cuba is clear.

It will be contended, of course, that American troops have been landed in Thailand with the permission of the government of that country and that the purpose is to defend it alone, but everyone realizes that across the Laotian border is the real source of the trouble and that there are in Laos American military units which theoretically are only advisory to the anti-Communist forces but which have orders to shoot if attacked.

SO THERE NO LONGER is any doubt but that the United States is using military force to check Communist-inspired operations in Southeast Asia and that other members of SEATO have formally recognized America's action and may send their own troops as well.

The other members of SEATO, besides Thailand and the United States, are Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines and Great Britain

Some of these countries won't send any troops.

Likewise, if there is any entry into Cuba by military forces of the United States under the sanctions derived from the treaty of the Organization of American States, it would not mean that all member countries would necessarily participate.

The SEATO precedent, however, gives support now to a similar movement of American troops into Cuba or surrounding areas. The purpose would be to cut off all operations by Communist-led forces based in Cuba and aim at any other country of this hemisphere.

Sending American troops to Thailand certainly opens up the question of why the same kind of action in respect to Cuba isn't also justified.

Letters To The Editor

The welfare of the people of Columbiana County is dependent upon the wisdom of our representatives in office, and we realize that it's a long row to hoe.

It seems as though the buying power of the once almighty dollar has been reduced to zero. We, as taxpaying citizens, encounter the same problems in maintaining our homes, even though on a smaller scale.

I find that it's necessary for us to plan together the program which we are to follow, articles to be purchased and luxuries to be eliminated, so that we may survive and pay taxes. By "together" I mean every member of the household. We are compelled by necessity to work together. We have to stretch the dollar with the previously mentioned wisdom to make ends meet. We all earn our keep else we fail.

The economic soundness of the home means the economic soundness of Columbiana County, the state and the nation. We work together, or fail.

What I am driving at is just this: Our county commissioners are not working together whenever they stoop to the low level of trying to fire a fellow employe, or employes, and spend the poor taxpayer's money foolishly in court costs. This is absolutely nothing but wanton waste. They are doing nothing but exposing the citizens to a lower level of economic insecurity whenever they spend a dollar foolishly.

Now they are recognizing the verdict of the court as being final and still do not abide by the decision. We will fire them for "Political Activity", nothing more, nothing less. Where did those employes violate the laws of the Civil Service Commission? Was it when they fought for their jobs? Are the commissioners trying now to be an absolute dictator and deny any working American the right to an honest living Are we being denied the process of legal court action in keeping our rights: Political activity. The only political activity the working, and paying, man can see is the commissioners' own action in the matter. They are wasting our money and their time. We elected them to office to represent all the people wisely, not to persecute a few. Providing the employes are inefficient and failing to do their work properly, then I say, fire them. This is what the people of Columbiana County will do to the commissioners whenever they realize their inefficiency and improper work.

In regards to the County Home, have the commissioners ever given any consideration to the idea of asking for a completely new, modern, fireproof structure, one floor plan for safety reasons and convenience, instead of always submitting the world "Repair" to the ancient home we now possess.

Personally, I will continue to vote against the word "Repair" but I will vote for an up-to-date home for our elderly citizens.

The commissioner should forget politics and work for the good of all the people. The voters know that mistakes will be made, all we ask is that they work together, efficiently, properly and wisely.

I wish all of the commissioners good luck, success and prosperity by striving together in unity, hand in hand in friendship.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

There Could Be A Message In Your Fears

I received a rather pathetic letter from a man who asked personal advice. "My problem," he wrote, "is some sort of fear and it's making me miserable." He described a curious situation: "For several years I traveled in sales work. I loved every minute of it. My wife often accompanied me. But since our income needed bolstering she recently took a job. So when I leave to spend a week in other parts of the country, I must go alone.

DR. PEALE

"NOW THIS is what happens. When I get to my destination I start worrying about my wife. I wonder if she will be all right while I'm away. I become very conscious of time. Days seem like weeks. My stomach then starts to bother me. I find it difficult to eat and sometimes I cannot keep food down. I try to remember that God will take care of me, my wife and everything else, but somehow these negative thoughts keep popping up. Sometimes I actually get to feeling so badly that I just quit and come home.

"How can I fill my mind with thoughts that will outweigh these fears and enable me to relax? I can't hold my job unless I get hold of myself. You see what I'm up against. I want victory over this."

In reply I told this troubled man that I thought his problem required more detailed treatment than could be undertaken by letter. I referred him to an experienced counselor in his area, a friend of mine, a man of insight, to whom he could go for help. But I also ventured a few observations.

"When we are troubled with fears," I said, "they sometimes indicate that something in the way in which we are living is not right and God is trying to awaken us to this fact. Whether this is now the case with you, I do not know. If it is, could it mean that the job your wife recently took is not good for her? Or that you are supposed to give up traveling and get a job at home?

"The best cure for fear," I went on to say, "is greater faith. But to gain that faith you have to be receptive to God's guidance and perhaps accept the need for a change in some aspect of your life. In other words, there is often a message in our fears."

ACTUALLY I think it could be said that all fear carries some important message. "Fear is sharp - sighted," wrote Cervantes in Don Quixote, "and sees things underground...."

Sometimes it portends a physical danger which the conscious mind has not noticed or will not admit. For example, a man I sat beside at an association dinner confided to me that for about three weeks he had been having spells of acute anxiety during the day at his office, with a breathless sensation and pains around the shoulder blades — and all for no reason he could fathom.

As we continued talking it came out that some weeks previously one of his partners had suffered a heart attack midway through a directors' meeting and had died right before his eyes. As though the possibility had just occurred to him, he then asked if I thought there could be any connection between that event and his feelings. Obviously, there could be plenty. Very likely he was being forced to realize that he would have to slow up — or risk overtaxing his own heart.

SOME FEARS, of course, are symptoms of emotional or spiritual illness, often stemming from experiences long past. A man plagued with a vague fearfulness in almost everything he tried to do came to me for consultation.

I noticed that he repeatedly used such expressions as "That is over my head" or "This is too deep for me." I soon learned that as a boy he had nearly drowned in a swimming pool. His fearful mother then told him he must never go swimming again under any circumstances. So he had to sit watching other youngsters swim, but never could go in himself.

Later on he developed the feeling that most things in life were "too deep", or too much for him to cope with. With counseling which developed insight and some intensive practice in trusting God, this man eventually overcame his fearfulness. Now he can dive and swims with the best of them, both in a swimming pool and in life. He found for himself the truth of the great Biblical statement: "I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

There Could Be A Message In Your Fears

I received a rather pathetic letter from a man who asked personal advice. "My problem," he wrote, "is some sort of fear and it's making me miserable." He described a curious situation: "For several years I traveled in sales work. I loved every minute of it. My wife often accompanied me. But since our income needed bolstering she recently took a job. So when I leave to spend a week in other parts of the country, I must go alone.

"NOW THIS is what happens. When I get to my destination I start worrying about my wife. I wonder if she will be all right while I'm away. I become very conscious of time. Days seem like weeks. My stomach then starts to bother me. I find it difficult to eat and sometimes I cannot keep food down. I try to remember that God will take care of me, my wife and everything else, but somehow these negative thoughts keep popping up. Sometimes I actually get to feeling so badly that I just quit and come home.

"How can I fill my mind with thoughts that will outweigh these fears and enable me to relax? I can't hold my job unless I get hold of myself. You see what I'm up against. I want victory over this."

In reply I told this troubled man that I thought his problem required more detailed treatment than could be undertaken by letter. I referred him to an experienced counselor in his area, a friend of mine, a man of insight, to whom he could go for help. But I also ventured a few observations.

"When we are troubled with fears," I said, "they sometimes indicate that something in the way in which we are living is not right and God is trying to awaken us to this fact. Whether this is now the case with you, I do not know. If it is, could it mean that the job your wife recently took is not good for her? Or that you are supposed to give up traveling and get a job at home?

"The best cure for fear," I went on to say, "is greater faith. But to gain that faith you have to be receptive to God's guidance and perhaps accept the need for a change in some aspect of your life. In other words, there is often a message in our fears."

ACTUALLY I think it could be said that all fear carries some important message. "Fear is sharp - sighted," wrote Cervantes in Don Quixote, "and sees things underground...."

Sometimes it portends a physical danger which the conscious mind has not noticed or will not admit. For example, a man I sat beside at an association dinner confided to me that for about three weeks he had been having spells of acute anxiety during the day at his office, with a breathless sensation and pains around the shoulder blades — and all for no reason he could fathom.

As we continued talking it came out that some weeks previously one of his partners had suffered a heart attack midway through a directors' meeting and had died right before his eyes. As though the possibility had just occurred to him, he then asked if I thought there could be any connection between that event and his feelings. Obviously, there could be plenty. Very likely he was being forced to realize that he would have to slow up — or risk overtaxing his own heart.

SOME FEARS, of course, are symptoms of emotional or spiritual illness, often stemming from experiences long past. A man plagued with a vague fearfulness in almost everything he tried to do came to me for consultation.

I noticed that he repeatedly used such expressions as "That is over my head" or "This is too deep for me." I soon learned that as a boy he had nearly drowned in a swimming pool. His fearful mother then told him he must never go swimming again under any circumstances. So he had to sit watching other youngsters swim, but never could go in himself.

Later on he developed the feeling that most things in life were "too deep", or too much for him to cope with. With counseling which developed insight and some intensive practice in trusting God, this man eventually overcame his fearfulness. Now he can dive and swims with the best of them, both in a swimming pool and in life. He found for himself the truth of the great Biblical statement: "I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The traditions of America are inseparably linked with religion, and the Church has been the most powerful factor in our national life. Its faith has inspired our highest achievements.

The influence of religion has sanctified our homes and fostered in them the solid virtues and strong faith which have molded our national character and shaped our course in world history.

Our public school system is the outgrowth of religious zeal and the desire of the Church to spread enlightenment among the people. It has invoked blessings on those who train our youth.

The home, the school, and the Church—these are the great triumvirate whose faithful and tireless efforts have made America the most favored land on earth. They are the pillars of our strength, the foundation of our hope.

Let us cling to these elements of national strength—make our homes the abode of happiness; make our schools centers of light and knowledge; and make God our guide as we move into the untrod future.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The traditions of America are inseparably linked with religion, and the Church has been the most powerful factor in our national life. Its faith has inspired our highest achievements.

The influence of religion has sanctified our homes and fostered in them the solid virtues and strong faith which have molded our national character and shaped our course in world history.

Our public school system is the outgrowth of religious zeal and the desire of the Church to spread enlightenment among the people. It has invoked blessings on those who train our youth.

The home, the school, and the Church—these are the great triumvirate whose faithful and tireless efforts have made America the most favored land on earth. They are the pillars of our strength, the foundation of our hope.

Let us cling to these elements of national strength—make our homes the abode of happiness; make our schools centers of light and knowledge; and make God our guide as we move into the untrod future.

Colts Edge Giants, 3-2, As LA Bows

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fluctuating career of knuckleball specialist Ken Johnson, resembling one of his best pitches, was back in the strike zone today. The Huston hand-me-down won his first game of the season with his first hit.

A victim of a low output offensive in losing five games, Johnson got the job done singlehanded against National League leading San Francisco Friday night, cooling off the sizzling Giants with a four-hitter and driving in the winning run in the Colts 3-2, 10-inning victory.

Johnson, acquired by Houston from Cincinnati in the player draft that stocked the new club, baffled the Giants with his assortment of "junk" pitches until he got a chance to win it with a two-out single that scored Carl Warwick.

The Giants, however, maintained their three-game edge over the runner-up Los Angeles Dodgers, beaten by third-place St. Louis 8-3. Cincinnati's fourth-place Reds closed in as Bob Purkey brought his record to 7-0 with a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh. Milwaukee's Warren Spahn held the New York Mets to three hits for a 5-2 decision, and Chicago's Cubs outslugged Philadelphia 11-8 in other games.

Charley James' single drove in two first inning runs for the Cards before they clinched it with four in the third, Bill White knocking in a pair with a single. That proved enough for Larry Jackson (4-4), who scattered nine Dodger hits. Johnny Podres (3-3) started for Los Angeles but had to leave in the first when Ken Boyer's single hit on the left forearm.

Purkey limited the Pirates to six hits—one a homer by Bill Virdon—while the Reds used a three-run outburst in the seventh to break a 1-1 tie for their seventh victory in eight games. A bases-loaded single by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson's run-producing hit did the damage in the rally that tagged Harvey Haddix (2-2) with the defeat.

Spahn (4-4) posted the 313th victory of his career when the Braves snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth on a two-run homer by Mack Jones and a bases-empty shot by Eddie Mathews. Hank Aaron earlier had hit his sixth homer in support of Spahn, who allowed sole homers by the Mets Gil Hodges and Frank Thomas. Roger Craig (2-4) went the distance for New York and took the loss.

Consecutive homers by George Altman for five runs batted in and one homer each by Ernie Banks, Ron Santo and Bob Will paced the Cubs, but they needed a three-run ninth to put it away. The Cubs got the winner when Phils' reliever Jack Baldschun (1-4) walked Santo to force in a run. Jim McKnight's two-run single gave Dick Ellsworth (3-4) more working room.

Beavers End Season With 9-4 Record

The Beaver Local baseball squad hung up a 9-4 record during the 1962 campaign after topping New Cumberland, 14-6, Thursday, in the season's finale.

Walt Schukert, a junior, also wound up undefeated on the mound this season by recording his fifth straight victory.

The Beavers trailed 6-4 but Coach Flody Suarez's squad came back with 10 big runs in the fifth inning to put the game on ice. The contest was called at the end of five frames.

Beaver Local belted 15 hits including three each by Gary Berhar, Gary Shaw and Dave Myers.

Clay 5-1 Choice In Fight On TV

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Daniels, the tonsorial artist and not the entertainer, hopes to end his two weeks leave from the barber shop tonight by lathering Cassius Clay in the television fight of the week.

If he upsets the 5-1 favored Clay in their heavyweight 10-rounder (ABC-TV 10 p.m., EDT) at St. Nicholas Arena, the 25-year-old New Yorker will put aside his comb and clippers for a while and concentrate entirely on furthering his pugilistic career. If not, it's back to the barber shop for Billy on Monday.

A pro just two years, Daniels has compiled a 16-0 record, including seven knockouts.

Billy is not ranked while Cassius, a pro only 19 months, is ranked seventh by the NBA and ninth by Ring Magazine.

Clay's record is 13-0, including 10 knockouts. He has stopped his last five opponents, including Alex Miteff and George Logan.

Freeman To Speak

CINCINNATI (AP)—Orville L. Freeman, secretary of agriculture, and Dr. Martin Cherkasky, director of Montefiore Hospital in New York, are scheduled to speak in Emery Auditorium at 2 p.m. Sunday in support of the Administration's "medicare through Social Security" bill.

Twins Beat Yanks, 4-3; Mantle Hurt

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fate of the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race may rest on the oft-injured legs of Mickey Mantle, the Yanks' Mr. Indispensable.

The outfielder sustained a severe muscular tear and minor damage to his left knee on the last play of New York's 4-3 loss to Minnesota Friday night. He will be lost to the suddenly-struggling Yankees for at least two weeks, possibly longer.

Mick collapsed in a heap about 10 feet before reaching first while running out a ground ball—the third out in the ninth inning. He hobbled from the field, leaning heavily on the shoulders of teammates, and was hospitalized.

"Mick pulled a muscle in his right upper leg while he was running to first," New York Manager Ralph Houk said. "It knotted up and he fell heavily on his left knee."

He's the latest casualty in an impressive list of Yankee injuries, which has at least helped contribute to the world champions' dive to third place.

Others included sore-armed relief ace Luis Arroyo and Roger Maris, the other half of the M&M home run team, who has been suffering from a groin pull. Maris is due to return to duty today. Arroy hasn't pitched in over two weeks.

Cleveland, getting a pair of homers and outstanding pitching from Dick Donovan, took over sole possession of first place with a 9-2 victory over Detroit.

Donovan's seventh win, without a loss, put the Indians a half game ahead of Minnesota, which vaulted over New York, and a full game up on the Yanks.

Baltimore beat Chicago 7-4 in 12 innings, Los Angeles beat Boston 8-4 and Washington edged Kansas City 3-2 in the others.

Harmon Killebrew, hitting only .198 going into last night's game hammered a two-run homer that wiped out a 3-2 New York lead and set up an earlier run with a double as Minnesota won its fifth straight and 10th in 13 games.

Don Lee (3-2) limited New York to seven hits, but needed relief help from lefty Dick Stigman when the Yanks threatened in the ninth. Whitey Ford (3-3), the first lefty to start against Minnesota this season, lost.

Jaipur's 5-2 Choice Today In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—George D. Widener's Jaipur was the 5-2 early favorite for the $188,300 Preakness today even though he never had met his top two rivals—El Peco Ranch's Decidedly and Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan.

Decidedly, who lowered the 21-year-old record for the Kentucky Derby by one second two weeks ago, and Ridan, a moody, hard-to-control colt, were rated second choices at 3-1.

Eleven were entered for the one and three-sixteenths mile feature at Pimlico. Post-time was 4:47 p.m. (EST) and a crowd of 33,000 was expected to be on hand.

The race was scheduled to be televised by CBS from 4:30 to 5 p.m. (EST).

The track for the 86th running of the second classic of racing's Triple Crown is fast—faster, perhaps, than it ever has been. That will be to Decidedly's liking.

Bill Hartack, who piloted Decidedly to his Derby victory, was up again. Bobby Ussery handled Jaipur and, Ridan had Manuel Ycaza.

Snell Wins 'Miracle Mile'

World Discus And Shot Put Records Are Broken

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A pair of giants toppled world records and a powerhouse runner from New Zealand, Peter Snell, supplied the brilliance in winning the "miracle mile."

Such was the story today as 40,007 fans turned out for the 22nd annual Memorial Coliseum Relays Friday night. Discus thrower Al Oerter and shot putter Dallas Long were the record smashers.

The 23-year-old Snell, claimant of the world record for the mile, suddenly cut loose with a burst of speed heading into the last 220 yards that brought these results:

Defeat for the pride of Oregon, 21-year-old Dyrol Burleson, who saw his American record of 3:57.6 surpassed.

Snell hit the tape in 3:56.1, with Burleson a well beaten second in 3:57.9.

And a former Oregon distance star, Jim Grelle, came in third in 3:58.9 to make it a threesome which bettered the 4-minute mark.

Oerter opened the show with a discus throw of 200 feet 5½ inches to become the first athlete to officially better 200 feet. The mark bettered the world standard of 199-2½ set in 1961 by Jay Silvester of Tremonton, Utah.

Huge Dallas Long of the University of Southern California hit 65 feet 10½ inches on his second shot put, surpassing by one-half inch the world record set by Bill Nieder in 1960.

Yesterday's Stars

Bating —George Altman, Cubs, hit consecutive homers for five runs batted in, also singled and scored three runs in 11-8 victory over Philadelphia.

Pitching — Ken Johnson, Colts, limited National League leading Giants to four hits in 3-2, 10-inning triumph for first victory of season.

ELHS 3rd; Potter Senior To Shoot In Ohio Finals

When Bob Putt opens fire in the state golf tournament at Columbus next weekend he will be one of the smallest golfers in the Ohio tourney.

However, Friday at the Belmont Hills Country Club at St. Clairsville he was the "giant" of the District tournament as he won medalist honors with an even par 72, finishing one stroke ahead of Zanesville's Jeff Parry.

Putt led the Potters to a third-place finish in the District tourney which showed 14 teams and one individual competing. A total of 57 golfers teed off in the event, with only eight golfers breaking 80.

Only the medalist, the runner-up and the members of the winning team qualify for the state meet which will be held next Friday and Saturday over the Ohio State University course.

Putt, the mighty mite of the Potter golf team, led his squad to a 14-3 record this spring. Yesterday he fired a 36 on both rounds to finish with a 72.

The East Liverpool golfer has a very good chance of picking up all the marbles at the state meet next weekend.

Coshocton won the district title with 319 while Zanesville was next with 321. East Liverpool finished third with 326 and Steubenville Central fired a 329 for fourth.

Other Potter scores showed Bob Gilmore with an 81, Dave Thorne 84 and Bruce Burbick 89.

East Liverpool ran into some bad luck when Burbick was stung on the left hand by an insect on the fourth hole of the first round. His hand swelled up to almost twice its normal size and was numb the remainder of the match.

Burbick is usually the second man for the Potters, but with the injury Friday finished fourth on his team.

Mike McCullough led Coshocton to the title with a 75.

Eddie Finnigan To Speak At Stanton Local Banquet

Edward L. (Eddie) Finnigan, athletic director and head football coach at Western Reserve University, will be speaker for the annual All-Sports banquet of Stanton Local High School Monday night in Irondale.

Awards will be presented members of the Red Raiders' football, basketball and baseball teams at the dinner at 6:30 in the high school. A limited supply of tickets is available for the public, Supt. C. P. Henderson announced.

Coach Harry Diehl will award basketball letters, Coach Don McBride, football letters, and Jay Hamilton, baseball letters. The home economics department will serve.

Finnigan has been head coach at his alma mater, Western Reserve, since 1951. He previously coached 18 years at Baldwin-Wallace College.

Since 1940, Finnigan has been statistician for the Cleveland Browns. He is a close friend of head coach Paul Brown.

Finnigan's football coaching record shows 44 wins, 35 defeats and four ties in 11 years at Western Reserve, and 11 wins, four losses and a tie at Baldwin-Wallace.

At Baldwin-Wallace, Finnigan made the Yellow Jackets into a perennial track power, culminating in six successive All - Ohio track titles from 1945-1950.

As a player for WR, Finnigan set a varsity record by winning nine letters and won All-America honors in basketball and football. He received his bachelor of arts degree in 1933, and a master's degree in physical education from Ohio State University.

Collins Shoots 4-Under 68, Sets Sights On Record

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Burly Bill Collins, who is burning up the course, has officials at the Hot Springs Country Club talking again about records in the $20,000 Hot Springs Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

Collins, of Miami, Fla., registered a 68, 4-under-par, in the second round of the tournament Friday and pushed his 2-day total to 133-11 strokes below par.

Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., who drifted back to 143 with a 73, won here in 1961 with a 273, which was 15 under par. The record low four-round total is 270.

So Collins, who hasn't won a tournament since his 1960 victory here, potentially can (1) win his first tournament in almost two years, (2) become the first man to win two Hot Springs Opens, and 3 set a new course record in winnning it.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — William Jarvis, 27, of Madisonville drowned in the Little Miami River, apparently after getting cramps. Jarvis' body was recovered three miles southwest of Lebanon Friday night.

Colts Edge Giants, 3-2, As LA Bows

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fluctuating career of knuckleball specialist Ken Johnson, resembling one of his best pitches, was back in the strike zone today. The Huston hand-me-down won his first game of the season with his first hit.

A victim of a low output offensive in losing five games, Johnson got the job done singlehanded against National League leading San Francisco Friday night, cooling off the sizzling Giants with a four-hitter and driving in the winning run in the Colts 3-2, 10-inning victory.

Johnson, acquired by Houston from Cincinnati in the player draft that stocked the new club, baffled the Giants with his assortment of "junk" pitches until he got a chance to win it with a two-out single that scored Carl Warwick.

The Giants, however, maintained their three-game edge over the runner-up Los Angeles Dodgers, beaten by third-place St. Louis 8-3. Cincinnati's fourth-place Reds closed in as Bob Purkey brought his record to 7-0 with a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh. Milwaukee's Warren Spahn held the New York Mets to three hits for a 5-2 decision, and Chicago's Cubs outslugged Philadelphia 11-8 in other games.

Charley James' single drove in two first inning runs for the Cards before they clinched it with four in the third, Bill White knocking in a pair with a single. That proved enough for Larry Jackson (4-4), who scattered nine Dodger hits. Johnny Podres (3-3) started for Los Angeles but had to leave in the first when Ken Boyer's single hit on the left forearm.

Purkey limited the Pirates to six hits—one a homer by Bill Virdon—while the Reds used a three-run outburst in the seventh to break a 1-1 tie for their seventh victory in eight games. A bases-loaded single by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson's run-producing hit did the damage in the rally that tagged Harvey Haddix (2-2) with the defeat.

Spahn (4-4) posted the 313th victory of his career when the Braves snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth on a two-run homer by Mack Jones and a bases-empty shot by Eddie Mathews. Hank Aaron earlier had hit his sixth homer in support of Spahn, who allowed sole homers by the Mets Gil Hodges and Frank Thomas. Roger Craig (2-4) went the distance for New York and took the loss.

Consecutive homers by George Altman for five runs batted in and one homer each by Ernie Banks, Ron Santo and Bob Will paced the Cubs, but they needed a three-run ninth to put it away. The Cubs got the winner when Phils' reliever Jack Baldschun (1-4) walked Santo to force in a run. Jim McKnight's two-run single gave Dick Ellsworth (3-4) more working room.

Beavers End Season With 9-4 Record

The Beaver Local baseball squad hung up a 9-4 record during the 1962 campaign after topping New Cumberland, 14-6, Thursday, in the season's finale.

Walt Schukert, a junior, also wound up undefeated on the mound this season by recording his fifth straight victory.

The Beavers trailed 6-4 but Coach Flody Suarez's squad came back with 10 big runs in the fifth inning to put the game on ice. The contest was called at the end of five frames.

Beaver Local belted 15 hits including three each by Gary Berhar, Gary Shaw and Dave Myers.

Clay 5-1 Choice In Fight On TV

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Daniels, the tonsorial artist and not the entertainer, hopes to end his two weeks leave from the barber shop tonight by lathering Cassius Clay in the television fight of the week.

If he upsets the 5-1 favored Clay in their heavyweight 10-rounder (ABC-TV 10 p.m., EDT) at St. Nicholas Arena, the 25-year-old New Yorker will put aside his comb and clippers for a while and concentrate entirely on furthering his pugilistic career. If not, it's back to the barber shop for Billy on Monday.

A pro just two years, Daniels has compiled a 16-0 record, including seven knockouts.

Billy is not ranked while Cassius, a pro only 19 months, is ranked seventh by the NBA and ninth by Ring Magazine.

Clay's record is 13-0, including 10 knockouts. He has stopped his last five opponents, including Alex Miteff and George Logan.

Twins Beat Yanks, 4-3; Mantle Hurt

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fate of the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race may rest on the oft-injured legs of Mickey Mantle, the Yanks' Mr. Indispensable.

The outfielder sustained a severe muscular tear and minor damage to his left knee on the last play of New York's 4-3 loss to Minnesota Friday night. He will be lost to the suddenly-struggling Yankees for at least two weeks, possibly longer.

Mick collapsed in a heap about 10 feet before reaching first while running out a ground ball—the third out in the ninth inning. He hobbled from the field, leaning heavily on the shoulders of teammates, and was hospitalized.

"Mick pulled a muscle in his right upper leg while he was running to first," New York Manager Ralph Houk said. "It knotted up and he fell heavily on his left knee."

He's the latest casualty in an impressive list of Yankee injuries, which has at least helped contribute to the world champions' dive to third place.

Others included sore-armed relief ace Luis Arroyo and Roger Maris, the other half of the M&M home run team, who has been suffering from a groin pull. Maris is due to return to duty today. Arroy hasn't pitched in over two weeks.

Cleveland, getting a pair of homers and outstanding pitching from Dick Donovan, took over sole possession of first place with a 9-2 victory over Detroit.

Donovan's seventh win, without a loss, put the Indians a half game ahead of Minnesota, which vaulted over New York, and a full game up on the Yanks.

Baltimore beat Chicago 7-4 in 12 innings, Los Angeles beat Boston 8-4 and Washington edged Kansas City 3-2 in the others.

Harmon Killebrew, hitting only .198 going into last night's game hammered a two-run homer that wiped out a 3-2 New York lead and set up an earlier run with a double as Minnesota won its fifth straight and 10th in 13 games.

Don Lee (3-2) limited New York to seven hits, but needed relief help from lefty Dick Stigman when the Yanks threatened in the ninth. Whitey Ford (3-3), the first lefty to start against Minnesota this season, lost.

Jaipur's 5-2 Choice Today In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—George D. Widener's Jaipur was the 5-2 early favorite for the $188,300 Preakness today even though he never had met his top two rivals—El Peco Ranch's Decidedly and Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan.

Decidedly, who lowered the 21-year-old record for the Kentucky Derby by one second two weeks ago, and Ridan, a moody, hard-to-control colt, were rated second choices at 3-1.

Eleven were entered for the one and three-sixteenths mile feature at Pimlico. Post-time was 4:47 p.m. (EST) and a crowd of 33,000 was expected to be on hand.

The race was scheduled to be televised by CBS from 4:30 to 5 p.m. (EST).

The track for the 86th running of the second classic of racing's Triple Crown is fast—faster, perhaps, than it ever has been. That will be to Decidedly's liking.

Bill Hartack, who piloted Decidedly to his Derby victory, was up again. Bobby Ussery handled Jaipur and, Ridan had Manuel Ycaza.

Snell Wins 'Miracle Mile'

World Discus And Shot Put Records Are Broken

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A pair of giants toppled world records and a powerhouse runner from New Zealand, Peter Snell, supplied the brilliance in winning the "miracle mile."

Such was the story today as 40,007 fans turned out for the 22nd annual Memorial Coliseum Relays Friday night. Discus thrower Al Oerter and shot putter Dallas Long were the record smashers.

The 23-year-old Snell, claimant of the world record for the mile, suddenly cut loose with a burst of speed heading into the last 220 yards that brought these results:

Defeat for the pride of Oregon, 21-year-old Dyrol Burleson, who saw his American record of 3:57.6 surpassed.

Snell hit the tape in 3:56.1, with Burleson a well beaten second in 3:57.9.

And a former Oregon distance star, Jim Grelle, came in third in 3:58.9 to make it a threesome which bettered the 4-minute mark.

Oerter opened the show with a discus throw of 200 feet 5½ inches to become the first athlete to officially better 200 feet. The mark bettered the world standard of 199-2½ set in 1961 by Jay Silvester of Tremonton, Utah.

Huge Dallas Long of the University of Southern California hit 65 feet 10½ inches on his second shot put, surpassing by one-half inch the world record set by Bill Nieder in 1960.

Yesterday's Stars

Bating —George Altman, Cubs, hit consecutive homers for five runs batted in, also singled and scored three runs in 11-8 victory over Philadelphia.

Pitching — Ken Johnson, Colts, limited National League leading Giants to four hits in 3-2, 10-inning triumph for first victory of season.

ELHS 3rd; Potter Senior To Shoot In Ohio Finals

When Bob Putt opens fire in the state golf tournament at Columbus next weekend he will be one of the smallest golfers in the Ohio tourney.

However, Friday at the Belmont Hills Country Club at St. Clairsville he was the "giant" of the District tournament as he won medalist honors with an even par 72, finishing one stroke ahead of Zanesville's Jeff Parry.

Putt led the Potters to a third-place finish in the District tourney which showed 14 teams and one individual competing. A total of 57 golfers teed off in the event, with only eight golfers breaking 80.

Only the medalist, the runner-up and the members of the winning team qualify for the state meet which will be held next Friday and Saturday over the Ohio State University course.

Putt, the mighty mite of the Potter golf team, led his squad to a 14-3 record this spring. Yesterday he fired a 36 on both rounds to finish with a 72.

The East Liverpool golfer has a very good chance of picking up all the marbles at the state meet next weekend.

Coshocton won the district title with 319 while Zanesville was next with 321. East Liverpool finished third with 326 and Steubenville Central fired a 329 for fourth.

Other Potter scores showed Bob Gilmore with an 81, Dave Thorne 84 and Bruce Burbick 89.

East Liverpool ran into some bad luck when Burbick was stung on the left hand by an insect on the fourth hole of the first round. His hand swelled up to almost twice its normal size and was numb the remainder of the match.

Burbick is usually the second man for the Potters, but with the injury Friday finished fourth on his team.

Mike McCullough led Coshocton to the title with a 75.

Since 1940, Finnigan has been statistician for the Cleveland Browns. He is a close friend of head coach Paul Brown.

Finnigan's football coaching record shows 44 wins, 35 defeats and four ties in 11 years at Western Reserve, and 11 wins, four losses and a tie at Baldwin-Wallace.

At Baldwin-Wallace, Finnigan made the Yellow Jackets into a perennial track power, culminating in six successive All - Ohio track titles from 1945-1950.

As a player for WR, Finnigan set a varsity record by winning nine letters and won All-America honors in basketball and football. He received his bachelor of arts degree in 1933, and a master's degree in physical education from Ohio State University.

Collins Shoots 4-Under 68, Sets Sights On Record

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Burly Bill Collins, who is burning up the course, has officials at the Hot Springs Country Club talking again about records in the $20,000 Hot Springs Invitational Open Golf Tournament.

Collins, of Miami, Fla., registered a 68, 4-under-par, in the second round of the tournament Friday and pushed his 2-day total to 133-11 strokes below par.

Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., who drifted back to 143 with a 73, won here in 1961 with a 273, which was 15 under par. The record low four-round total is 270.

So Collins, who hasn't won a tournament since his 1960 victory here, potentially can (1) win his first tournament in almost two years, (2) become the first man to win two Hot Springs Opens, and 3 set a new course record in winnning it.

to try once again to form a non-aligned government, which both the United States and the Soviet Union say they want.

The anti-Communist Vientiane government of Premier Prince Boun Oum and strongman Gen. Phoumi Nosavan had balked at joining a coalition under Souvanna, contending he is too weak to prevent pro-Communists from leading Laos into the Red camp. But after recent Pathet Lao gains, they asked Souvanna to return for another try.

The Communists meanwhile mounted a torrent of words—but no overt moves—at the U.S. military buildup in Thailand.

In Bulgaria last night, Khrushchev called the move unwise and said it might lead to another Korea.

Red China accused the United States of trying to engulf the whole of Southeast Asia in a "local" Korea-type of war and declared it could not ignore the dispatch of U.S. troops to Thailand.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Muscle-Lazy Areas Need Attention

Many figure flaws can be chalked up to out - of - kilter posture. And since the real fault lies with certain groups of weak muscles, the thing to do is to find which muscles, and restore the tone.

Ida Jean Kain

A protruding stomach is oftentimes caused by muscular weakness in the chest and shoulders, or at the small of the back. A shelf-like derriere can be the natural consequence of a pronounced curve at the lower spine, rather than the sign of excess hip inches. Weakness of the muscular girdle pulls the small of the back sharply in.

A side-view of your figure in a bathing suit gives the general picture of your figure, good or bad. There are simple tests for determining which muscles are to blame. Here is one:

LIE FLAT on the floor on your back, stretch your arms straight up on the floor overhead with upper arms close against ears. Stretch legs straight down.

Try to lie so flat that the arms, entire back and legs are in contact with the floor. Then ask someone to slip her hand underneath the small of your back.

If this can be done easily and with space to spare, there's your trouble — a tendency to sway-back. Try to get into the habit of pulling firmly up and in with the abdominal muscles and down and under with the big hip muscles when you stand or walk. With special exercise, tone can be restored to the abdominal muscles.

If you cannot place your arms against the floor, the difficulty is with the chest and shoulders; there is tension in the area of the chest and a tendency to rounded shoulders.

Stenographers, bookkeepers, writers and desk workers in general tend to round their shoulders. The correction is exercise which releases tension in this area and brings the shoulders back into beautiful line.

All swim strokes are excellent, best against the resistance of the water of course, but very good as calisthenics. Try "swimming" the back stroke, slowly circling alternate arms up, around and back down in a rhythmic, easy pattern. Don't stand in a slump — pull slim through the middle.

YOUR MUSCLES should be strong enough to hold your body in line during acivity and you should also be able to relax between times.

All the emphasis placed on good posture does not mean there is only one idea, or that you should try to hold yourself rigidly erect at all cost. But, if the muscles are in good tone, and your posture in correct alignment, you spend less energy performing everyday tasks, and your figure is streamlined.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Get A Lift With Posture" and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

The two-story, brick building in the Jefferson County Village is bowing out as a high school. It will be replaced by a new, $1½ million building under construction in Hammondsville, about two miles away.

Irondale High was only a two-year high school in 1890 when the first "seniors" were graduated. It changed to the three-year plan for several years, then reverted back to its original status.

A gymnasium was added to the building in September 1922, and the following year, the first "full-fledged" seniors received dipiomas in recognition of four years of formal education.

Centaur

"this was an engineering mistake." But he said it would be pretty easy to correct the design.

Dr. Wernher Von Braun, the ex-German rocket expert who heads the Marshall Space Flight Center team at Huntsville, Ala., had an explanation for some of the technical trouble:

"Not enough technical penetration" of the General Dynamics operation by the technical experts from Huntsville. This situation is now corrected, he said, and he is convinced "Centaur will succeed."

At first only one mission was assigned to Centaur—to put a high altitude satellite into an exact 24-hour orbit so that it would stay over one spot on earth.

But as the years went by, space planners began to see more and more fields for Centaur to conquer, and other missions were added: to carry scientific probes to the Moon and Mars and Venus; to act as an upper stage of the huge Saturn booster; to become a workhorse space vehicle as the space age passed out of the toddling stage. Each of these assignments meant changes in design.

The project, started on a comparatively shoestring appropriation of $59 million, had growing pains. Lack of spare parts, due to lack of money, caused some delays, Von Braun testified.

In the end, it will cost an estimated $350 million.

which bathers formerly walked down from another parking lot. These should be completed this month.

The beach area now ends along a concrete wall. Last fall and winter the lake's swimming area was drained and an asphalt - like cover put down. Some precautions have been made to keep out mud and rocks.

The boating concession is now open on Saturdays and Sundays and daily after May 30. The large park has numerous tables for picnickers. There is also a primitive area for scouting. The tenting and trailer area opened April 15.

The park is situated between Routes 30 and 18 and is about 15 miles east of East Liverpool on Route 30.

Fireworks are planned the evening of May 30 in observance of Memorial Day.

The park will be open evenings Tuesday through Saturday during the summer season, and from 1 p. m. on Sundays and holidays. Dancing will be launched at Virginia Gardens Sunday nights starting in June.

At other times, reservations must be made for picnics Hand said. There are 16 amusement rides at the park, all renovated for the season.

The East Palestine City Park pool will open May 30 with the annual "Free Day" for youngsters slated June 2.

Hours will be 5 to 9 p. m. weekdays and 1 to 9 p. m. on weekends until the school term is ended. Free swim classes will be launched at the pool June 24.

to try once again to form a non-aligned government, which both the United States and the Soviet Union say they want.

The anti-Communist Vientiane government of Premier Prince Boun Oum and strongman Gen. Phoumi Nosavan had balked at joining a coalition under Souvanna, contending he is too weak to prevent pro-Communists from leading Laos into the Red camp. But after recent Pathet Lao gains, they asked Souvanna to return for another try.

The Communists meanwhile mounted a torrent of words—but no overt moves—at the U.S. military buildup in Thailand.

In Bulgaria last night, Khrushchev called the move unwise and said it might lead to another Korea.

Red China accused the United States of trying to engulf the whole of Southeast Asia in a "local" Korea-type of war and declared it could not ignore the dispatch of U.S. troops to Thailand.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Muscle-Lazy Areas Need Attention

Many figure flaws can be chalked up to out - of - kilter posture. And since the real fault lies with certain groups of weak muscles, the thing to do is to find which muscles, and restore the tone.

Ida Jean Kain

A protruding stomach is oftentimes caused by muscular weakness in the chest and shoulders, or at the small of the back. A shelf-like derriere can be the natural consequence of a pronounced curve at the lower spine, rather than the sign of excess hip inches. Weakness of the muscular girdle pulls the small of the back sharply in.

A side-view of your figure in a bathing suit gives the general picture of your figure, good or bad. There are simple tests for determining which muscles are to blame. Here is one:

LIE FLAT on the floor on your back, stretch your arms straight up on the floor overhead with upper arms close against ears. Stretch legs straight down.

Try to lie so flat that the arms, entire back and legs are in contact with the floor. Then ask someone to slip her hand underneath the small of your back.

If this can be done easily and with space to spare, there's your trouble — a tendency to sway-back. Try to get into the habit of pulling firmly up and in with the abdominal muscles and down and under with the big hip muscles when you stand or walk. With special exercise, tone can be restored to the abdominal muscles.

If you cannot place your arms against the floor, the difficulty is with the chest and shoulders; there is tension in the area of the chest and a tendency to rounded shoulders.

Stenographers, bookkeepers, writers and desk workers in general tend to round their shoulders. The correction is exercise which releases tension in this area and brings the shoulders back into beautiful line.

All swim strokes are excellent, best against the resistance of the water of course, but very good as calisthenics. Try "swimming" the back stroke, slowly circling alternate arms up, around and back down in a rhythmic, easy pattern. Don't stand in a slump — pull slim through the middle.

YOUR MUSCLES should be strong enough to hold your body in line during acivity and you should also be able to relax between times.

All the emphasis placed on good posture does not mean there is only one idea, or that you should try to hold yourself rigidly erect at all cost. But, if the muscles are in good tone, and your posture in correct alignment, you spend less energy performing everyday tasks, and your figure is streamlined.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Get A Lift With Posture" and "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

The two-story, brick building in the Jefferson County Village is bowing out as a high school. It will be replaced by a new, $1½ million building under construction in Hammondsville, about two miles away.

Irondale High was only a two-year high school in 1890 when the first "seniors" were graduated. It changed to the three-year plan for several years, then reverted back to its original status.

A gymnasium was added to the building in September 1922, and the following year, the first "full-fledged" seniors received diplomas in recognition of four years of formal education.

"this was an engineering mistake." But he said it would be pretty easy to correct the design.

Dr. Wernher Von Braun, the ex-German rocket expert who heads the Marshall Space Flight Center team at Huntsville, Ala., had an explanation for some of the technical trouble:

"Not enough technical penetration" of the General Dynamics operation by the technical experts from Huntsville. This situation is now corrected, he said, and he is convinced "Centaur will succeed."

At first only one mission was assigned to Centaur—to put a high altitude satellite into an exact 24-hour orbit so that it would stay over one spot on earth.

But as the years went by, space planners began to see more and more fields for Centaur to conquer, and other missions were added: to carry scientific probes to the Moon and Mars and Venus; to act as an upper stage of the huge Saturn booster; to become a workhorse space vehicle as the space age passed out of the toddling stage. Indices Show General Gain For 4 Months

Business and industrial conditions in the East Liverpool district gained all along the line in the first four months of 1962, compared with a similar period of 1961, the Chamber of Commerce said today in its monthly summary.

Of 13 indices checked regularly, 11 showed increases in the first four months of the year, while only two were off from their 1961 levels.

The trend was not as strong in a comparison of April activity with March. Six lines showed gains last month, six were down and one was unchanged.

In the four-month comparison of the two years, increases were shown in industrial employment and payrolls, bank clearings and debits, inbound and outbound rail carloadings, river traffic and tonnage and sales of new and used cars. Postal receipts and parking meter revenue fell.

Payrolls at 12 plants totaled $5,287,442 for the first four months of the year, up 15.5 per cent from the $4,579,402 shown at the same time in 1961. The payrolls totaled $1,238,478 in April, off 26.8 per cent from the $1,690,938 in March. However, the March figure was swelled by the fact many plants had five paydays instead of the usual four.

Employment at the same plants averaged 3,903 monthly to date in 1962, a gain of 1.5 per cent from the 3,846 average shown at the same time in 1961. The firms had 3,937 on the job last month, down 2 per cent from the 4,019 listed in March.

Inbound carloadings totaled 1,109 for the first four months of the year, up 59.1 per cent from the 697 shown at the same time in 1961. They totaled 207 in April, down 38.4 per cent from the 336 shown in March.

Outbound carloadings hit 1,656 for the first four months of the year, a gain of 108 per cent from the 794 listed at the same time in 1961. They totaled 400 in April, down 19.2 per cent from the 495 shown in March.

District dams locked through 1,884 tows in the first four months of the year, up 32.8 per cent from the 1,419 shown at the same time in 1961. April saw 517 tows locked through, up 10 per cent from the 470 listed in March.

The river traffic in the first four months represented 6,352,850 tons of cargo, up 43 per cent from the 4,424,900 tons at the same time in 1961. The April cargoes totaled 1,624,600, up 1.5 per cent from the 1,600,200 listed in March.

New car sales in Columbiana County totaled 1,085 in the first four months of 1962, a gain of 34.1 per cent from the 809 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit 348 in April, a gain of 9.4 per cent from the 318 listed for March.

Used car sales totaled 4,182 in the first four months of the year, a gain of 97.7 per cent from the 2,115 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit 1,325 in April, off 4 per cent from the 1,380 shown in March.

The city's relief case load averaged 90 monthly for the first four months of 1962, down 30.2 per cent from the 129 shown at the same time in 1961. The case load was 88 in April, unchanged from March.

Bank clearings totaled $12,906,864 for the first four months of the year, up 4.3 per cent from the $12,372,214 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit $3,210,369 in April, an increase of 0.08 per cent from the $3,184,172 of March.

Bank debits averaged $21,914,737 monthly for the first four months of 1962, up 4 per cent from the $20,986,198 shown at the same time in 1961. They totaled $21,034,689 in April, down 9.8 per cent from the $23,316,137 shown in March.

Postal receipts totaled $81,040 for the first four months of the year, down 3 per cent from the $83,554 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit $20,148 in April, a gain of 10.2 per cent from the $18,289 listed in March.

The city's parking meter recepts totaled $19,413 for the first four months of 1962, off 0.01 per cent from the $19,442 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit $6,446 in April, a boost of 35.8 per cent from the $4,746 shown in March.

New York Police Alert For 2 Who Killed 2 Officers

NEW YORK (AP)—All 24,000 New York City policemen were grimly alert today in a search for two men who killed two detectives in a point-blank gun duel in a Brooklyn candy store. One of the hunted men was believed wounded.

The detectives, both past winners of citations for heroism, were cut down Friday in a brief, blazing exchange of bullets when they burst in on a holdup at the store. The bandits escaped with $3,000 to $4,000. Blood stains were found along their escape route.

The victims were Luke J. Fallon, 56, a veteran of 25 years on the force, and John P. Finnegan, 29, a 5-year veteran. Fallon was killed with a single shot through the heart. Finnegan was mortally wounded with two shots in the abdomen and a third in the shoulder.

They were trouble shooters, cruising in civilian clothes in a car bearing taxicab markings and containing a police radio. Their job was to try to stem a recent wave of holdups of cab drivers.

Astronauts Warned On Space Conditions

NEW YORK (AP)—Astronauts had a warning today they may run into conditions in outer space that upset their mental stability.

A scientist, Dr. Robert O. Becker, a specialist in space conditions, said Friday that variations in the fields of magnetic force can affect the delicate functions of the human mind.

Such things as magnetic storms, he said, could trigger serious mental disturbances that have been latent.

Pavement Sign Marks Lay-Over Site For Bus

To help discourage illegal parkers, the legend, "Buses Only," was painted in huge letters on the pavement Friday afternoon on the new lay-over spot for Newell buses on W. 5th St. immediately west of Market St.

At the same time, the first parking meter spot west of Market on W. 5th was converted into a truck-loading zone — for exclusive use of trucks between 8 a.m. and noon.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen worked out the two changes Thursday afternoon after drivers on the Newell line complained their lay-over spot was taken over frequently by illegally - parked delivery and autos.

Tri-State Transit Co. and Inter-City Transit Co. began using the street lay-over spots Monday after discontinuing use of the Bus Terminal concourse. The Newell bus stop was moved Thursday from the Diamond to W. 5th.

Trade With Reds Up

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's trade with the Communist bloc reached a record $320 million last year, a 61 per cent increase over 1960, the Foreign Ministry reported today. It represented only 3.2 per cent of Japan's total trade, however.

The Declaration of Independence was sealed in a helium-filled enclosure after 1924.

President Proclaims May 30 Memorial Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Friday proclaimed Wednesday, May 30, as Memorial Day, and called on Americans to pray "for a new world of law where peace and justice shall be assured for all."

Kennedy asked that the hour of 11 o'clock in the morning, in each locality, be set aside as the time to unite in the prayers.

His proclamation said the nation today faces a challenge "which demands of us the same virtues of loyalty, courage, and devotion to country that characterized our fallen heroes."

"Memorial Day each year provides a fitting occasion upon which Americans may not only pay tribute to our honored dead but also unite in prayer for success in our search for a just and lasting peace," he said.

Indices Show General Gain For 4 Months

Business and industrial conditions in the East Liverpool district gained all along the line in the first four months of 1962, compared with a similar period of 1961, the Chamber of Commerce said today in its monthly summary.

Of 13 indices checked regularly, 11 showed increases in the first four months of the year, while only two were off from their 1961 levels.

The trend was not as strong in a comparison of April activity with March. Six lines showed gains last month, six were down and one was unchanged.

In the four-month comparison of the two years, increases were shown in industrial employment and payrolls, bank clearings and debits, inbound and outbound rail carloadings, river traffic and tonnage and sales of new and used cars. Postal receipts and parking meter revenue fell.

Payrolls at 12 plants totaled $5,287,442 for the first four months of the year, up 15.5 per cent from the $4,579,402 shown at the same time in 1961. The payrolls totaled $1,238,478 in April, off 26.8 per cent from the $1,690,938 in March. However, the March figure was swelled by the fact many plants had five paydays instead of the usual four.

Employment at the same plants averaged 3,903 monthly to date in 1962, a gain of 1.5 per cent from the 3,846 average shown at the same time in 1961. The firms had 3,937 on the job last month, down 2 per cent from the 4,019 listed in March.

Inbound carloadings totaled 1,109 for the first four months of the year, up 59.1 per cent from the 697 shown at the same time in 1961. They totaled 207 in April, down 38.4 per cent from the 336 shown in March.

Outbound carloadings hit 1,656 for the first four months of the year, a gain of 108 per cent from the 794 listed at the same time in 1961. They totaled 400 in April, down 19.2 per cent from the 495 shown in March.

District dams locked through 1,884 tows in the first four months of the year, up 32.8 per cent from the 1,419 shown at the same time in 1961. April saw 517 tows locked through, up 10 per cent from the 470 listed in March.

The river traffic in the first four months represented 6,352,850 tons of cargo, up 43 per cent from the 4,424,900 tons at the same time in 1961. The April cargoes totaled 1,624,600, up 1.5 per cent from the 1,600,200 listed in March.

New car sales in Columbiana County totaled 1,085 in the first four months of 1962, a gain of 34.1 per cent from the 809 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit 348 in April, a gain of 9.4 per cent from the 318 listed for March.

Used car sales totaled 4,182 in the first four months of the year, a gain of 97.7 per cent from the 2,115 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit 1,325 in April, off 4 per cent from the 1,380 shown in March.

The city's relief case load averaged 90 monthly for the first four months of 1962, down 30.2 per cent from the 129 shown at the same time in 1961. The case load was 88 in April, unchanged from March.

Bank clearings totaled $12,906,864 for the first four months of the year, up 4.3 per cent from the $12,372,214 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit $3,210,369 in April, an increase of 0.08 per cent from the $3,184,172 of March.

Bank debits averaged $21,914,737 monthly for the first four months of 1962, up 4 per cent from the $20,986,198 shown at the same time in 1961. They totaled $21,034,689 in April, down 9.8 per cent from the $23,316,137 shown in March.

Postal receipts totaled $81,040 for the first four months of the year, down 3 per cent from the $83,554 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit $20,148 in April, a gain of 10.2 per cent from the $18,289 listed in March.

The city's parking meter recepts totaled $19,413 for the first four months of 1962, off 0.01 per cent from the $19,442 shown at the same time in 1961. They hit $6,446 in April, a boost of 35.8 per cent from the $4,746 shown in March.

New York Police Alert For 2 Who Killed 2 Officers

NEW YORK (AP)—All 24,000 New York City policemen were grimly alert today in a search for two men who killed two detectives in a point-blank gun duel in a Brooklyn candy store. One of the hunted men was believed wounded.

The detectives, both past winners of citations for heroism, were cut down Friday in a brief, blazing exchange of bullets when they burst in on a holdup at the store. The bandits escaped with $3,000 to $4,000. Blood stains were found along their escape route.

The victims were Luke J. Fallon, 56, a veteran of 25 years on the force, and John P. Finnegan, 29, a 5-year veteran. Fallon was killed with a single shot through the heart. Finnegan was mortally wounded with two shots in the abdomen and a third in the shoulder.

They were trouble shooters, cruising in civilian clothes in a car bearing taxicab markings and containing a police radio. Their job was to try to stem a recent wave of holdups of cab drivers.

Astronauts Warned On Space Conditions

NEW YORK (AP)—Astronauts had a warning today they may run into conditions in outer space that upset their mental stability.

A scientist, Dr. Robert O. Becker, a specialist in space conditions, said Friday that variations in the fields of magnetic force can affect the delicate functions of the human mind.

Such things as magnetic storms, he said, could trigger serious mental disturbances that have been latent.

Area Sailor Serves

EAST PALESTINE — Radioman 3C Paul E. McCoy, son of Mrs. P. G. McCoy, 536 N. Sumner St., is serving on the flagship Pocono which took part in an Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force amphibious operation earlier this month at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Pavement Sign Marks Lay-Over Site For Bus

To help discourage illegal parkers, the legend, "Buses Only," was painted in huge letters on the pavement Friday afternoon on the new lay-over spot for Newell buses on W. 5th St. immediately west of Market St.

At the same time, the first parking meter spot west of Market on W. 5th was converted into a truck-loading zone — for exclusive use of trucks between 8 a.m. and noon.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen worked out the two changes Thursday afternoon after drivers on the Newell line complained their lay-over spot was taken over frequently by illegally - parked delivery and autos.

Tri-State Transit Co. and Inter-City Transit Co. began using the street lay-over spots Monday after discontinuing use of the Bus Terminal concourse. The Newell bus stop was moved Thursday from the Diamond to W. 5th.

Trade With Reds Up

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's trade with the Communist bloc reached a record $320 million last year, a 61 per cent increase over 1960, the Foreign Ministry reported today. It represented only 3.2 per cent of Japan's total trade, however.

The Declaration of Independence was sealed in a helium-filled enclosure after 1924.

President Proclaims May 30 Memorial Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Friday proclaimed Wednesday, May 30, as Memorial Day, and called on Americans to pray "for a new world of law where peace and justice shall be assured for all."

Kennedy asked that the hour of 11 o'clock in the morning, in each locality, be set aside as the time to unite in the prayers.

His proclamation said the nation today faces a challenge "which demands of us the same virtues of loyalty, courage, and devotion to country that characterized our fallen heroes."

"Memorial Day each year provides a fitting occasion upon which Americans may not only pay tribute to our honored dead but also unite in prayer for success in our search for a just and lasting peace," he said.

Kennedy Gets Good Report About Father

NEW YORK, (AP) — President Kennedy, heartened by the latest medical report, put another visit with his convalescing father ahead on a schedule today that concentrates mainly on winning friends and pulling in money for the Democratic party.

After seeing 73-year-old former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the President arranged a call on a teen-aged girl who lost her parents—her father was a White House news photographer—in an accident that crippled her last summer.

Both the girl, 15-year-old Pattie Corte, and the elder Kennedy are under treatment in the New York University Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Bellevue Medical Center.

From the Institute, Kennedy planned a brief visit with Democratic party benefactors before appearing at the dedication of a cooperative housing development that will put him on the same platform with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The President speaks tonight at a fund-raising rally embellished with a host of Broadway and Hollywood entertainers at Madison Square Garden. The rally is billed as a birthday salute to Kennedy, who turns 45 May 29, and the sponsors have been selling tickets at either $100 or $1,000 in hopes of enriching the party treasury by more than $1 million.

That function, plus another speech Sunday at a Madison Square Garden jamboree to promote his medical care program, brought Kennedy to New York for the weekend. But he used the occasion first to spend some time with his father, who suffered a stroke last December.

Dr. Howard Rusk, director of the Institute, detailed the elder Kennedy's condition for the President just after he arrived in New York from Washington late Friday. Rusk later told newsmen the former ambassador "has made real improvement, especially within the last 10 days."

The popularly - used expression "Mutual Admiration Society" was originated by Oliver Wendell Holmes in his "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table".

Warned On Refugees

HONG KONG (AP)—British authorities today decreed heavy fines and jail terms for Hong Kong residents caught helping refugees to escape from Red China and hiding them out from police trying to stop the mounting influx into this crown colony.

Kennedy Gets Good Report About Father

NEW YORK, (AP) — President Kennedy, heartened by the latest medical report, put another visit with his convalescing father ahead on a schedule today that concentrates mainly on winning friends and pulling in money for the Democratic party.

After seeing 73-year-old former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the President arranged a call on a teen-aged girl who lost her parents—her father was a White House news photographer—in an accident that crippled her last summer.

Both the girl, 15-year-old Pattie Corte, and the elder Kennedy are under treatment in the New York University Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Bellevue Medical Center.

From the Institute, Kennedy planned a brief visit with Democratic party benefactors before appearing at the dedication of a cooperative housing development that will put him on the same platform with Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

The President speaks tonight at a fund-raising rally embellished with a host of Broadway and Hollywood entertainers at Madison Square Garden. The rally is billed as a birthday salute to Kennedy, who turns 45 May 29, and the sponsors have been selling tickets at either $100 or $1,000 in hopes of enriching the party treasury by more than $1 million.

That function, plus another speech Sunday at a Madison Square Garden jamboree to promote his medical care program, brought Kennedy to New York for the weekend. But he used the occasion first to spend some time with his father, who suffered a stroke last December.

Dr. Howard Rusk, director of the Institute, detailed the elder Kennedy's condition for the President just after he arrived in New York from Washington late Friday. Rusk later told newsmen the former ambassador "has made real improvement, especially within the last 10 days."

The popularly - used expression "Mutual Admiration Society" was originated by Oliver Wendell Holmes in his "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table".

"Do you hear the awful words in that book Daddy is reading?"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I bring out the full flavor of raisins and dates?

A. Try soaking them in a little boiling water for about five minutes. Two tablespoons of boiling water for each half-cup of fruit will be satisfactory.

Q. How can I remove the discoloration in a sink or bowl caused by a dripping faucet?

A. A paste of cream of tartar and peroxide, applied with a stiff brush, will usually clean off this discoloration in jig time.

Q. How can I remove a fruit jar top that is stuck?

A. If the top refuses to turn, set the jar upside down in hot water for a few minutes, and the top should then come off without difficulty.

Q. How can I make an emergency repair to a coffee percolator when the glass top has been broken and there is no replacement available?

A. Take a double fold of cellophane wrap large enough to come through the opening where the glass top belongs, with enough to stick slightly over the edge when the cover is on. Your coffee will perk as usual.

Q. What can I do about some match-scratch marks some inconsiderate person left on a white-painted wood surface?

A. You can remove these by rubbing a half - cut lemon over the spot and following with a moist cloth that has been dipped into whiting powder.

Q. How can I eliminate the rather unpleasant odor when cooking cabbage, onions, and other such vegetables?

A. When cooking, set a small pan containing vinegar and cloves on the stove, and allow it to simmer. Its spicy aroma counteracts the cooking odors.

QUESTION: How were the bodies of the Egyptian pharaohs preserved?

ANSWER: Early Egyptians were buried right in the desert sand. Some were wrapped in mats, but such wrapping was very carelessly done. The result of this was that the bodies were preserved, because of certain elements found in the special Egyptian sand. When the Egyptians discovered this, they were overjoyed. They had always believed that those who died would return at will and here was their proof. So they proceeded to bury their people in enormous boxes filled with food and weapons, so that the people would feel at home if they should decide to return to life. Naturally air got into these boxes, and the special sand which had preserved the bodies was kept out. The Egyptians did not want to go back to burying the dead in the sand, so they began experimenting with different chemicals. Finally they developed a method which has never been equaled. The deceased person was taken to a special building, where his brani and all of his organs, except the heart, were removed. Then he was placed in an enormous tank filled with a solution of either salt or natron. Finally the body was removed from the jar, washed and dried. The body was filled with preseravtives and covered with a paste made of resin and fat, and wrapped in familiar bandages. The process took 70 days. Mummification was used by most Egyptians.

FOR YOU TO DO: The elaborate painted cases in the illustration were used for storing mummies. Pictures across them tell interesting things about the mummies inside. Try to find a picture of a mummy case. What can you figure out from the pictures?

Homes Not Tied To Lines May Pay Sewage Charge

In a move aimed at discouraging use of septic tanks and even more primitive sanitary facilities, Council will consider legislation Monday night allowing the city to assess quarterly sewage service charges against homes and other buildings where a sanitary sewer is "available," but unused.

The action was requested of Council recently by the Board of Public Utilities, which took over administration of the sewage system last Nov. 1. The board bills water and sewage customers in one joint statement four times a year, basing the charges on water meter readings.

The ordinance would assess the sewage charge on homes or any other buildings with waste disposal facilities that are located on a street where a sanitary sewer is available, but not used for that particular dwelling or structure.

However, it would not assess the charge against a building, even though there is an "available sewer," if the terrain or some other factor makes it a physical impossibility for the line to serve the structure.

At the time the utilities board conferred with Council, it explained there are a number of instances in which sewers have been available for several years, but householders have continued to use septic tanks to avoid paying the sewage charge.

In other business, Council will consider an amendment to the annual appropriation ordinance which has as its principal provision a $2,000 item for engineering, plans and surveys in preparation for a proposed $40,000 trunk line sewer project in Gardendale.

Initial plans for the Gardendale project were explained to Council in early April. The trunk line will connect the residential area with the Carpenters Run trunk line in California Hollow. Installation of sewers on individual streets will be up to the property-owners.

The ordinance also will contain a $150 item to pay the city's annual assessment for membership in the Ohio Municipal League. If necessary, the ordinance will provide additional funds for purchase of two new trucks for the street department. The annual appropriation ordinance provided $6,000 for the purchase. If bids exceed the amount available, the $6,000 appropriation may be supplemented.

Ruling Backs Union's Stand In Hall Strike

An arbitrator assigned by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has issued a ruling supporting the position of kilnfiremen and helpers at the Hall China Co. in a dispute with the company that touched off a 12-day strike in January.

The finding was issued by Edward C. Maxwell, the arbitrator sent here from Washington at the request of the U. S. Potters Associaton and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters to hear evidence from both sides and untangle the problem, which has ramifications dating back to 1933.

The dispute revolved around an alleged lay-off by the company of several kilnfiremen's helpers. The employes are members of IBOP Local 130, kilnfiremen, helpers and trackmen, of which Floyd Jividen of Newell is president.

The local contended the lay-offs were contrary to the union-management agreement, but the company alleged its actions were supported by the contract.

The arbitrator's ruling styled the case as a dispute between the IBOP and the U. S. Potters Association. Maxwell heard 12 union witnesses and four representing Hall's and the USPA.

The arbitrator devoted most of the text of his ruling to reviewing the complicated history of the kiln operations that led up to the dispute. In conclusion, he said:

"I, the undersigned arbitrator, having heard and considered the proof and argument of the parties in the above-named matter, hereby award as follows: The position of the Brotherhood is sustained. The company caused a lay-off of the firemen's helpers on Jan. 4, 1962, which was in violation of the existing bargaining agreement."

In connection with management's action, he wrote: "The arbitrator is convinced that the company's action was by no means a caprice; rather it was prompted by a serious problem for which there was no simple solution. While the company's action was not arbitrary within the accepted broad definition, its action was unilateral and without sound foundation."

"We feel this clearly indicates the Hall employes and the local were right in this dispute," Jividen said. He received a copy of the arbitrator's decision.

Ruling Backs Union's Stand In Hall Strike

An arbitrator assigned by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has issued a ruling supporting the position of kilnfiremen and helpers at the Hall China Co. in a dispute with the company that touched off a 12-day strike in January.

The finding was issued by Edward C. Maxwell, the arbitrator sent here from Washington at the request of the U. S. Potters Associaton and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters to hear evidence from both sides and untangle the problem, which has ramifications dating back to 1933.

The dispute revolved around an alleged lay-off by the company of several kilnfiremen's helpers. The employes are members of IBOP Local 130, kilnfiremen, helpers and trackmen, of which Floyd Jividen of Newell is president.

The local contended the lay-offs were contrary to the union-management agreement, but the company alleged its actions were supported by the contract.

The arbitrator's ruling styled the case as a dispute between the IBOP and the U. S. Potters Association. Maxwell heard 12 union witnesses and four representing Hall's and the USPA.

The arbitrator devoted most of the text of his ruling to reviewing the complicated history of the kiln operations that led up to the dispute. In conclusion, he said:

"I, the undersigned arbitrator, having heard and considered the proof and argument of the parties in the above-named matter, hereby award as follows: The position of the Brotherhood is sustained. The company caused a lay-off of the firemen's helpers on Jan. 4, 1962, which was in violation of the existing bargaining agreement."

In connection with management's action, he wrote: "The arbitrator is convinced that the company's action was by no means a caprice; rather it was prompted by a serious problem for which there was no simple solution. While the company's action was not arbitrary within the accepted broad definition, its action was unilateral and without sound foundation."

"We feel this clearly indicates the Hall employes and the local were right in this dispute," Jividen said. He received a copy of the arbitrator's decision.

The Soft Life Is Bad Medicine

If your legs never take you farther than your garage, you are courting ill health, says this leading exponent of outdoor exercise

By PAUL DUDLEY WHITE, M.D. as told to Curtis Mitchell

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in speaking of physical fitness, recently said that we have become a nation of onlookers instead of doers.

On the other hand, people who should know better have said that exercise is unimportant.

It is important. It is important for us to be more than mere spectators of sports. We can profit by enlarging our activities beyond those of getting into and out of automobiles, buses, trains, planes, and our easy chairs. We should all start using our legs again.

As long as I can remember, I have sought activity outdoors and have always been refreshed thereby. One of my first ambitions was to be a forester, and many of my early summers were spent at Camp Becket in western Massachusetts. One summer, I walked all the way from Becket across the state of Connecticut to get a look at Long Island Sound.

While still in college, I changed my personal goal from forestry to medicine, but I have continued to hike and to urge others to do so.

Fortunately, the means for such exercise, for living a more active life, are coming into use again. They are the bicycle path, the back road, the mountain trail, and the great parks in every section of the country.

Adequate statistics relating health to exercise are lacking, but certain advantages of exercise are well-known to physicians. Many of us consider exercise just as essential as sleep and food.

First, exercise has an immediate effect on the circulation. Good muscle tone in the arms and legs maintains better circulation of blood through the veins. Our veins are provided with one-way valves, and their compression by the skeletal muscles helps pump the blood back to the heart. Hard muscles do this job better than soft ones.

Exercise also improves the muscle tone of the diaphragm—the muscle that brings oxygen to the lungs, removes carbon dioxide, and sucks blood into the heart. Vigorous exercise aids these processes. But if that is impossible, deep breathing several times a day is of some value.

There are other benefits from exercise, too. Digestion and bowel function are improved. A brisk walk before bedtime may help induce sleep better than any kind of medicine, a highball, or a tv show. Most important, adequate muscular exercise is an antidote for mental fatigue. In my own case, nervous stress and strain can be counteracted, even prevented, by regular exercise.

Sometimes, a walk can be the difference between well-being and illness. Several years ago, an aged patient of mine was forced to sit about the house through much of the winter because of grippe. By spring, his legs had begun to swell and he was fearful of almost any movement. He had no heart disease or leg-vein thrombosis, so I had him resume his former habit of walking a mile or two each day. His swelling disappeared, and he has suffered no more trouble with his legs.

If walking is good, so is cycling. As a freshman in college, I rode my bicycle about 10 miles a day and thought nothing of it. My father sometimes rode his bicycle 100 miles a day when he was a young man!

While attending medical meetings abroad, my wife and I have often found cycling an ideal way to get acquainted with the people of an unfamiliar country. On travels in Holland and Ireland, we easily cycled 25 miles a day.

HERE AT HOME, Americans own more than 27 million bicycles, but we suffer from a shortage of safe roads and paths.

Fortunately, the public is at last becoming interested in the problem. Recently, I visited Homestead, Fla., "the City of Bicycles," where I joined people of all ages in enjoying this healthful mode of transportation.

In Massachusetts, we have formed the committee for Safe Bicycling, Inc., which supported legislation that resulted in building a safe bicycle path on the island of Nantucket.

Our group's current efforts include encouraging the residents of communities across the nation to develop safe bicycle paths from homes to schools, to shopping areas, and to railway and bus stations.

All healthy persons, no matter what their age, should exercise. Man needs an efficient circulation with adequate reserve, not merely a sluggish one. An emergency such as an acute illness or accident can suddenly call on the full resources of the body. Being in a state of positive health rather than merely existing may mean the difference between life and death.

The outdoors awaits. It is time for Americans to pause and consider how they can take advantage of its health-giving pleasures.

Dr. White takes his own good advice—though 75, he rides a bicycle regularly to keep his body active.

I was just thinking...

IF BELOVED remembrance had wings, I would close my eyes and return again to:

A La Cigogne in Paris, an Alsatian hideaway Bing Crosby and I discovered separately and adored jointly for its exquisite attention to fine food and service.

A night in an enormous old room at the Caledonian Hotel in Scotland, with Edinburgh Castle glowing ethereally through my window.

Lunch at the Pink Elephant on Gasparilla Island off the Florida Gulf Coast, with pompano almondine and then the quaint ferry trip back to the mainland.

A day, a week, or a month on Butternut Point at Whitefish Lake in Minnesota, but only as it was in the days of my childhood—secluded, serene, and sweet with the scent of pines.

An afternoon at Country Club Plaza in Kansas City, with a visit to Putsch's and dinner at the Golden Ox in the teeming heart of the stockyards.

A return, as I was then, to Tennessee and the ivy-draped antiquity of my school as it was then, blooming with magnolia and the innocent hopes and dreams of girls becoming women.

A night on the town in Chicago or New York, but no more than that. It's like eating whipped cream on a dead run.

Dinner again at Sheik's in Minneapolis, where time stands still but young voices sing like angels in a dark wood.

A walk through England's heather, a drive to the Red Lion Inn, moonlight on the Serpentine, and John Gielgud at the Globe Theater.

Biloxi in the springtime and New Orleans in the rain. The Missouri hill country on a summer morning with my grandmother's kitchen aromatic of pork chops, hot biscuits, and gravy.

The Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C., where the majesty of greatness is a silent hymn.

Halifax and Quebec, the white fences and wild flowers of Kentucky, afternoon tea on a British liner, grits and red-eye gravy in Cairo, Illinois.

But, more than all of these, the joy of coming home.

You Can Take the Kids Along

Children won't exclaim over the scenery—but they'll bring along a fresh sense of wonder that can turn your vacation into a never-to-be-forgotten event

By VIOLET WEINGARTEN

Author of "You Can Take Them with You," a guide to traveling through Europe with children

THE FIRST TIME we took our children on a vacation trip was almost the last.

The whole way from our home in Pleasantville, N.Y., to the West Coast, we fidgeted about whether it was going to work out. Finally, we arrived at Muir Woods, the first stop on our tour of California. We marched our two daughters into the heart of the soaring redwoods and told them to look and ponder.

"These trees grow to a height of 364 feet," I read from a guidebook. "And they were old during Biblical times," their father added.

Kathy, who was then six, drew herself to her full height of 48 inches and peered upward.

"My, they're even older than Mommy!" she said.

"Bigger, too," commented her 10-year-old sister Jan.

Undaunted, we pushed into the High Sierras. We stood them before Bridal Veil Falls; we showed them the Hetch Hetchy Reservoir; we dragged them up to Glacier Point. With glassy eyes they looked and said: "Uh-huh."

Finally, we were irritated to the point where we had to do something—so we decided to join them. As soon as one of nature's wonders showed itself, we would call out, "Duck, kids, scenery!" They in turn took to crying, "Lookit the neat dump!" And from that moment on, some of our best vacations have been spent with our children.

WE HAVE TAKEN THEM west to San Francisco, north to Maine, south to Key West, and overseas to Colombia and Greece. In all that time we have never—well, hardly ever—pointed out a speck of scenery. If we felt they had to look at Mount Katahdin after all that climbing, we gave them the camera and told them to take a picture. We figured they would see it through the viewer.

Children simply will not respond to scenery as such. Skies, trees, rocks, ante-bellum mansions—what do they care about them? Their days are filled with wonder. Like Thoreau, they can see the whole universe in a neighbor's meadow. They don't need the Grand Canyon.

This is why it is futile to expect children to be grateful to you for taking them traveling. So admit it: you're not taking them for their sake, but for yours. They have all the time in the world to travel. But you have only a few short years to travel with them.

Children are quite an asset, too. They will give you fresh eyes with which to see, commentaries on the passing scene you couldn't buy, audiences for your jokes, and introductions to people you would never meet otherwise.

To enjoy these advantages, however, you have to make a few concessions. A vacation with children must be tailored to their needs as well as your own. Here are some pointers my husband and I have found helpful:

Age—There are those who can make baby formulas over charcoal fires and drive with two-year-olds in their laps. Not us. We like our children old enough so they will make a stab at throwing their jeans into their own suitcases and be able to stay up late enough to have dinner with us in a restaurant. It also helps if they can read. And if they have had American history at school, they might even give Civil War battlefields a second glance.

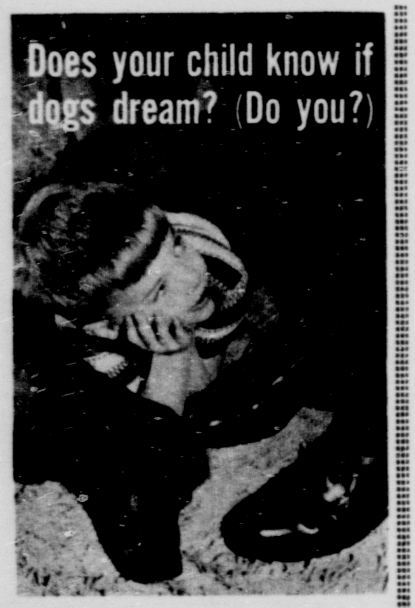
Transportation—We try to avoid long unbroken motor trips. If possible, we fly long distances and rent a car for regional touring. But when going the whole way by car is necessary, we look for ways to vary the trip. If we can put the car on a ferry for a stretch, fine. If we can detour to a side road, fine. And we will drive half-a-day in preference to a whole day.

Accommodations—Unless we are trapped in the middle of a desert, the whole family never checks into one room. We need to get out of one another's hair in the course of a trip. Separate rooms do the trick.

We also try to find a motel with a pool; it doesn't matter how big. One of the most satisfactory swims we ever had was in an almost bathtub-sized pool near cabins with outside plumbing in the Rockies.

Splitting Up—Togetherness is the main reason for touring with your children, but there are times when it can be too much of a good thing. Fathers and sons can go to baseball games while mothers and daughters shop. Children can dine at the motel restaurant while parents go into town for dinner. Older children and parents can trot off to the movies while the younger ones nap under the watchful eye of a baby sitter or an amiable chambermaid.

Sight-Seeing—This should not be confused with scenery watching. We take in every sight we can, and we make detours to likely attractions. We do all the fascinating, rewarding rubbernecking we wouldn't dream of doing without our children. After all, why are you taking them on a trip if not to get into the Children's Zoo, Disneyland, and the Statue of Liberty?



The Book of Knowledge has the answer!

So many women are asking this important question.

The answer is—yes. A remarkable new medical discovery called Dioctyl Sodium Sulfosuccinate has now made possible a special new laxative for a woman's sensitive system. We call it Correctol®.

Correctol works two ways. First, its miracle ingredient takes advantage of the natural moisture in your system. Second, its mild laxative acts gently but most effectively. Working together, Correctol's two active ingredients give a woman more natural relief than any ordinary laxative can.

Correctol is recommended any time in a woman's life, even during and after pregnancy.

Wheels to Fit Your Wanderlust

Next time you travel, take along kitchen, bedroom, living room—and prove that home is where the highway is

By STANLEY H. BRAMS

ORIGINALLY, the automobile was a toy for a sportsman—a hobby and a status symbol. Then it became a utility, something to get you from here to there. Now it has become a combination of the two—a vehicle to take you somewhere in a fun way.

The marriage of wheels and wanderlust reaches new heights of happiness this year. You can find economy-minded vehicles to tour in, or luxurious ones. Either class (or those in between) has variants to fit small or large families. And every conceivable kind of accessory is available to fit your wanderlust, including air conditioning.

More important, every vehicle in this great array can be outfitted complete in itself—transportation, shelter, kitchen, supply base for fishing, hunting, swimming, or just lazing.

Basic in the array of fun-filled vehicles for family movement is the station wagon. This year there are no fewer than 81 different models available in the American automobile family, not to speak of a number from abroad, mainly by foreign affiliates of U. S. producers.

They range in price from $2,081 to $4,873, plus taxes and delivery. There are two-seat and three-seat versions, some folding down to provide a flat floor at the rear which you can equip with mattresses and other custom fittings. Some station-wagon manufacturers have created extra room by doing away with the spare tire; instead, they have used compartmented tires, which are all but immune to sudden puncturing.

An added virtue in some 1962's is a locked compartment in the floor to hide smaller objects instead of leaving them in plain sight.

The station wagon, of course, has undergone a major transformation in the past few years, giving it a wider range of functions. The result is the part-wagon, part-bus, generally called the station van or sports wagon. Versatility is the keynote of these carryalls. They'll transport nine passengers with ease, and when they have been cleared in the rear they provide as much as 204 cubic feet of space to carry the bulkiest gear.

Using these wonderful club buses as a basis, you can customize your wandering wheels

IS THERE SUCH A THING AS A SPECIAL LAXATIVE FOR WOMEN?

So many women are asking this important question.

The answer is—yes. A remarkable new medical discovery called Dioctyl Sodium Sulfosuccinate has now made possible a special new laxative for a woman's sensitive system. We call it Correctol®.

Correctol works two ways. First, its miracle ingredient takes advantage of the natural moisture in your system. Second, its mild laxative acts gently but most effectively. Working together, Correctol's two active ingredients give a woman more natural relief than any ordinary laxative can.

Correctol is recommended any time in a woman's life, even during and after pregnancy.

Try gentle, hospital-tested Correctol . . . bearing the Good Housekeeping Seal. Ask your druggist for Correctol.

Wheels to Fit Your Wanderlust

Next time you travel, take along kitchen, bedroom, living room—and prove that home is where the highway is

By STANLEY H. BRAMS

ORIGINALLY, the automobile was a toy for a sportsman—a hobby and a status symbol. Then it became a utility, something to get you from here to there. Now it has become a combination of the two—a vehicle to take you somewhere in a fun way.

The marriage of wheels and wanderlust reaches new heights of happiness this year. You can find economy-minded vehicles to tour in, or luxurious ones. Either class (or those in between) has variants to fit small or large families. And every conceivable kind of accessory is available to fit your wanderlust, including air conditioning.

More important, every vehicle in this great array can be outfitted complete in itself—transportation, shelter, kitchen, supply base for fishing, hunting, swimming, or just lazing.

Basic in the array of fun-filled vehicles for family movement is the station wagon. This year there are no fewer than 81 different models available in the American automobile family, not to speak of a number from abroad, mainly by foreign affiliates of U. S. producers.

They range in price from $2,081 to $4,873, plus taxes and delivery. There are two-seat and three-seat versions, some folding down to provide a flat floor at the rear which you can equip with mattresses and other custom fittings. Some station-wagon manufacturers have created extra room by doing away with the spare tire; instead, they have used compartmented tires, which are all but immune to sudden puncturing.

An added virtue in some 1962's is a locked compartment in the floor to hide smaller objects instead of leaving them in plain sight.

The station wagon, of course, has undergone a major transformation in the past few years, giving it a wider range of functions. The result is the part-wagon, part-bus, generally called the station van or sports wagon. Versatility is the keynote of these carryalls. They'll transport nine passengers with ease, and when they have been cleared in the rear they provide as much as 204 cubic feet of space to carry the bulkiest gear.

in every imaginable way. Their interiors can be fitted with a complete camping unit, starting with a vinyl floor and including kitchen counter and stove, storage walls, beds—even draperies for privacy. For its Corvair Greenbriar, Chevrolet offers a choice of fittings which can be fastened quickly into place with simple wing nuts.

Ford, too, has similar options. The Falcon club wagon can be modified with a Kamperkit which includes table and couch that flip down to make beds at night, an awning over the door, a stove, and even running water!

Coming into its own this year is the use of a pickup truck as the nucleus of a camping outfit. The Custom Sportster by Dodge is typical. It is built on a Dodge chassis and cab, its direct mounting bringing about notable stability (a great virtue at expressway speed in a crosswind) and the economy of passenger-car registration as well.

Five people can be slept in the Sportster—even more if some happen to be children who don't mind close quarters. There's a private flush toilet and shower, hot- and cold-water tanks, gas and electric lights, a gas stove and oven, and a refrigerator.

Another Dodge-related development is the Motor Home, which completely encloses the driver's cab space—in appearance a trailer, but one that includes its own motive power. A 26-foot version sleeps as many as eight; all the amenities of suburban living en route are provided.

There are any number of companies which produce custom packages to fit into standard pickup-truck floors. Some of these are simply basic shelters for sleeping at night and carrying belongings by day.

Other packages for use on pickup trucks provide a starting point for expandable, portable dwellings. They open out into canvas or more rigid shapes, the vehicle body used as a supporting wall.

One virtue of newer versions is that the entire package slides neatly onto and off the body platform and fastens quickly into place with a few bolts and pins. Consequently, it can be used when desired, then stored the rest of the time.

But relatively few drivers own a pickup. For those who don't, there is something really new this year—the camp pack that fits onto your sedan.

The Camperette, for example, has a novel virtue. It mounts for travel over the roof and rear deck, and it has telescoping legs. If you wish, you can lower the legs to support the shelter unit, disconnect it from the car, then drive out from under it.

The Camperette's size is fairly typical of its category. It is made of aluminum and plywood to hold its weight under 500 pounds, including its contents. There are two beds on the sides with an aisle between.

There are other units which fold flat and sit on rails atop your automobile; one of these opens out to one side like a clamshell to form a canvas-topped sleeping shelter about twice the width of your car.

But you needn't go to that stage of perfection. Your car dealer also can offer you a choice of individual items or groupings, such as tents, folding chairs, table and stools, cooler and stove, tableware, air mattresses, sleeping bags, and a heater, which fit snugly into your car's trunk.

You even may want to pack a portable generator powered by a gasoline engine. It will operate such conveniences as an electric refrigerator (small size, of course), radio, and tv set. Or, lacking a generator, you can still bring along a portable, battery-operated tv, radio, or record player.

The trusty trailer, of course, continues popular. And there are new models and new ideas here, too, as in the cars that haul them. One bright example is the new 5-Star Camper whose sides telescope during moving from one site to the next, thus reducing wind resistance.

This unit is only a few inches higher than your car during hauling. Disconnected at a camping site, its sides can be cranked up to provide more than six feet of inside clearance. It normally accommodates six sleepers but can handle eight.

Truly the wheels that fit your wanderlust come in every variety—except square!

A Dog's Life

What's tried on our dog, old faithful Spot?
In a houseful of children, what is not?

And a makeshift harness to pull their sled.

And, patient as Job, old Spot submits
To derby hats and bridles and bits,
Somehow maintaining his canine pride,
A tried-on dog who is sorely tried!

The entire neighborhood was in its seasonal frenzy of spring gardening. One soiled property owner wearily approached his neighbor and asked, "Hate to bother you, Jones, but I wonder if I could get back that spade you borrowed from me last weekend."

"I'm sorry," Jones replied. "I lent it to a friend down the block. Do you need it?"

"Not for myself," the gardener said, "but the fellow I borrowed it from says the owner wants it back." —V. D. Palat

"Why me?" the other replied indignantly. "I'm no furrier!"

Minimum weight, a rainbow of colors, and new convenience features mark today's luggage

By FRANCES HODGES

LUGGAGE is literally coming up roses—as well as blue, gray, white, green, yellow, and plaid. This array of colors now accounts for more purchases than the once-important tan.

Another trend is the variety of sizes and shapes (see photos) to fit every travel need. In materials, vinyl and Fiberglas are now as fashionable as leather, while lightweight metals make strong frames for solid or soft-side construction.

Women will also welcome the bagged and zippered interiors of most of the new luggage, plus sesame self-closing locks or new spring and swivel locks that are practically foolproof. For women and men, there are well-coordinated and matching groups aplenty. And too good to pass up are a host of extra totes and collapsible cases that can be gift-filled for your return trip.

Your Vacation's in the Bag

Minimum weight, a rainbow of colors, and new convenience features mark today's luggage

By FRANCES HODGES

LUGGAGE is literally coming up roses—as well as blue, gray, white, green, yellow, and plaid. This array of colors now accounts for more purchases than the once-important tan.

Another trend is the variety of sizes and shapes (see photos) to fit every travel need. In materials, vinyl and Fiberglas are now as fashionable as leather, while lightweight metals make strong frames for solid or soft-side construction.

Women will also welcome the bagged and zippered interiors of most of the new luggage, plus sesame self-closing locks or new spring and swivel locks that are practically foolproof. For women and men, there are well-coordinated and matching groups aplenty. And too good to pass up are a host of extra totes and collapsible cases that can be gift-filled for your return trip.

"The Americana helped Robert to make the honor roll ...and Rodney isn't very far behind!"

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Campbell, Waltham, Mass.

Mr. Robert Campbell is a Boston bookseller, and an avid student of the Civil War. Because of his professional knowledge of reference materials, his choice of an encyclopedia for his own family was bound to be a judicious one. Three years ago, he decided on THE AMERICANA – and his family has been using it constantly ever since.

Recently, for example, Marilyn, who is 17, did an English thesis on Transcendentalism with the help of THE AMERICANA. Robert, 14, says THE AMERICANA "helped a lot" with a science project he did on Astronomy. His twin brother, Rodney, received a great deal of help from THE AMERICANA with a project on Weather. Mr. Campbell uses THE AMERICANA "continually" to pinpoint Civil War dates and events, and Mrs. Campbell finds that "it certainly has helped me to answer some of the questions the children bring up."

The parents agree that "THE AMERICANA helped Robert to become an honor student" – and they say that Rodney isn't very far behind him in marks. Both boys are science lovers, and "what THE AMERICANA tells them seems to whet their appetites for learning even more."

THE AMERICANA has the combination of qualities needed by your teen-age school child. Here is one reference set which provides both the completeness and authority of a fine adult encyclopedia, and the sheer readability and usefulness so important to the college-bound school youngster.

In today's race for the limited number of openings in good colleges and universities, can you afford not to give your child this important – perhaps decisive – advantage?

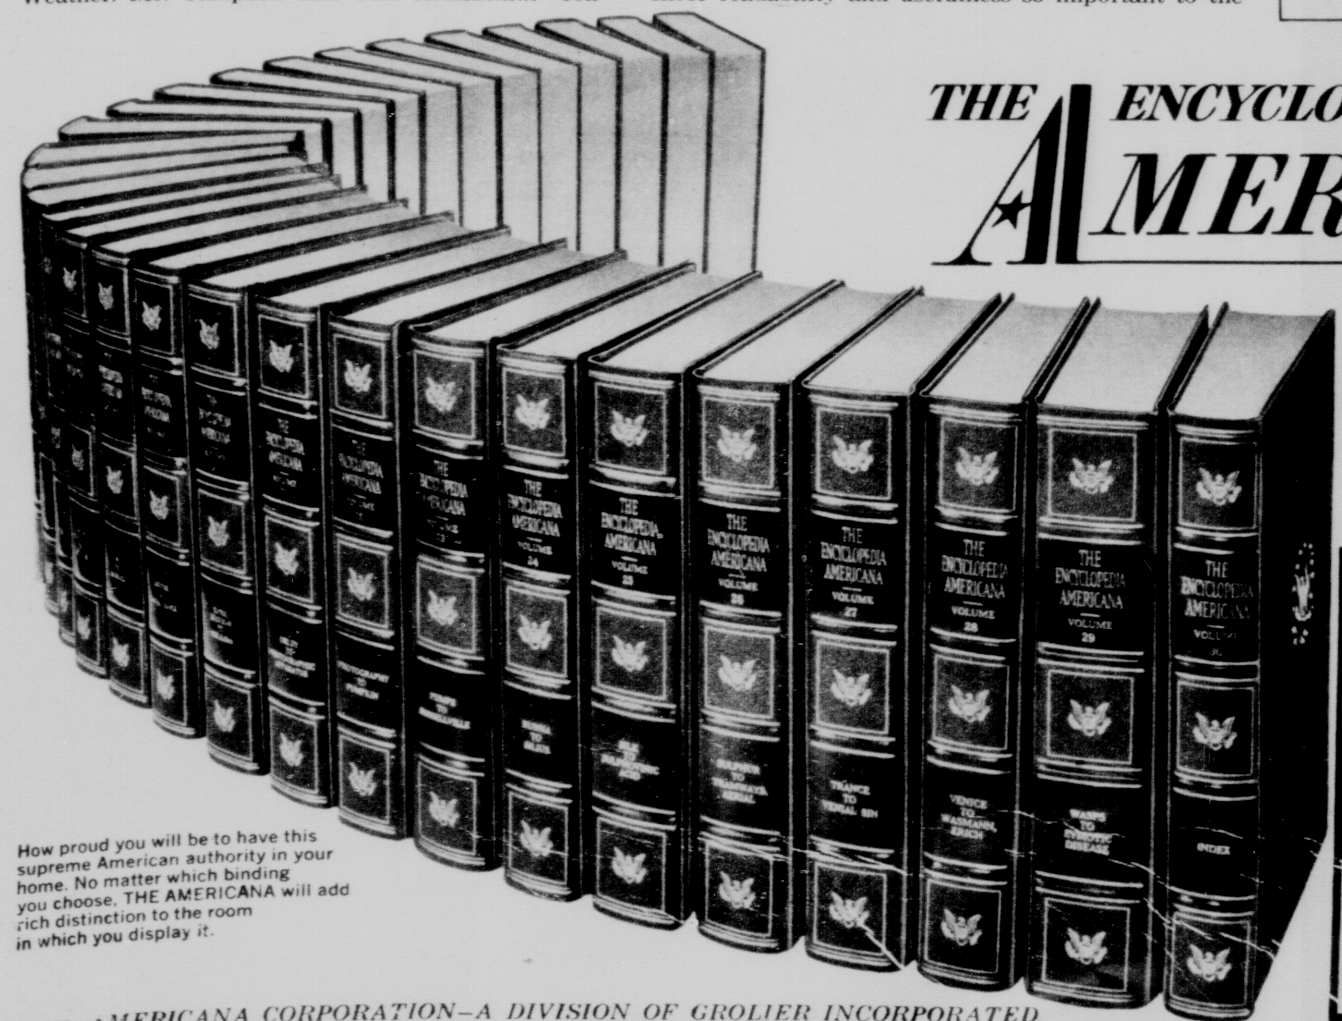
WHAT OTHER AMERICANA FAMILIES SAY

"No one with a family should be without The Americana."
–MRS. ELEANOR LENZEN, Salem Depot, N. H.

"Our three children use them constantly."
– EDWARD HELT, Winsted, Conn.

"Hardly a day goes by when both my boys are not at the bookshelf."
–HENRY L. HEISSFELD, Springfield, Mass.

"One of our most valued possessions."
– CLARENCE R. PARKER, Montpelier, Vt.



How proud you will be to have this supreme American authority in your home. No matter which binding you choose, THE AMERICANA will add rich distinction to the room in which you display it.

When childhood constipation occurs

More mothers use Fletcher's Castoria than any other laxative

Because

Fletcher's Castoria gives the prompt, yet natural-like relief from temporary constipation that medical authorities agree is best for a child's young system. Its pure extract of Senna is considered one of nature's finest vegetable laxative products.

Fletcher's Castoria is gentle, the prime requisite for a child's laxative. It contains none of the harsh drugs so often found in adult laxatives, drugs that can upset your child's system.

Fletcher's Castoria is liquid, so exact dosage is sure: from drops to teaspoonfuls as needed. Very important, too, Castoria tastes good. So children take it willingly, even lick the spoon.

Fletcher's Castoria is the only nationally-recognized laxative made especially for children of all ages. So why take chances . . . the laxative that's "right" for you can well be "wrong" for your child. Get famous Fletcher's Castoria today.
